WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—The White House is decked out in Christmas finery today, and its occupants will start holiday festivities tomorrow.

Gay laughter of children, the crackling of log fires, and the rumble of postoffice vans unloading presents ranging from live turkeys to rare gifts from far corners of the world replaced the hum of official business.

President Roosevelt reduced his engagement list to a minimum; desks were cleared of all but the most pressing papers.

Lighted Wreaths Gleam
Lighted wreaths gleamed from every White House window. Six Christmas trees and myriad flameless lights paid homage to the spirit of Kris Kringle and Dickens' immortal Tiny Tim.

Pre-Suicide Confession By Coster Names Six

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—A pre-suicide confession in which "F. Donald Coster" named others after being unmasked as a convicted swindler may be made public today.

This disclosure was made by acting U. S. Attorney Gregory Noonan who already had heard part of the statement left by the president of the McKesson & Robbins drug concern, who was the notorious swindler, Philip M. Musica, 25 years ago.

In the document Philip admits he resorted to illegal acts in order to make McKesson & Robbins the foremost drug concern in the world. His manipulation of its financial affairs did benefit the firm he purchased control of in 1926 for $1,000,000. However, $18,000,000 of its $37,000,000 in listed assets is missing.

The New York Journal and American stated that the Coster-Musica confession will name six prominent men, none of them Musica's brothers, as his partners in the colossal financial scandal.

Funds For W.P.A. Will Be First Big Problem For Coming Congress

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—Demands for emergency funds to continue WPA will precipitate, a row in congress before WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins' expected appointment as secretary of commerce is confirmed, it appeared today.

Disclosure of Deputy Administrator Aubrey Williams that WPA faces a shutdown by February 7 brought a flood of congressional proposals for revamping of the big relief agency.

First Congress Problem
President Roosevelt, it is expected, will be forced to seek an emergency

WPA appropriation of $600,000,000 or more almost immediately after congress convenes January 3. WPA thus will be the first major problem on which congress probably will act.

Since the resignation of Daniel C. Roper as secretary of commerce becomes effective tomorrow night, informed sources said Mr. Roosevelt probably would announce Hopkins' appointment to the cabinet post on Saturday.

These same sources listed Colonel Francis C. Harrington, assistant WPA administrator and chief engineer, as Hopkins' probable successor, with Deputy WPA Administrator Aubrey Williams relinquishing his

Theatre Burns In Pittsburgh

Loss Of $10,000 To $20,000 At Strand Theatre Is Occasioned

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 22.—A three-alarm fire today destroyed the interior of the Strand Theatre on Pittsburgh's Southside and caused damage estimated at between $10,000 and $20,000 before being brought under control.

Four adjoining brick two-story buildings, threatened for a time when flames shot through the theatre roof, were saved without damage after several families were forced to flee from their apartments because of the heavy smoke.

Fire Chief Nick Phelan asked the bomb and arson squad to investigate the blaze after, he said, firemen discovered flames raging simultaneously at opposite ends of the 500-foot theatre. Phelan said rubbish beneath the stage and combustible material in the projection room appeared to have been the starting points of the fire.

Mazzone Guilty In Second Degree

Jury Returns Verdict In Murder Case After Four Hours Deliberation

TEN TO TWENTY YEARS IS PENALTY

After four hours of deliberation, the jury trying Frank Mazzone for the murder of Mike Mihlikovich on December 3, returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree. The verdict was announced at 7:15 o'clock at the courthouse Wednesday evening by William J. Isaac, foreman of the jury.

The trial of Mazzone started Monday morning. The jury was selected Monday night. The Commonwealth finished its case Tuesday afternoon, and the case went to the jury at 2:45 Wednesday afternoon. The verdict was signalled from the jury room at 6:45.

No Emotion
As the verdict was announced Mazzone stood in the courtroom with his right hand upraised. The fire and emotional excitement shown by him during his testimony seemed to have gone and he received the verdict with no visible change of face. He said nothing nor did his wife and nine-year-old daughter, who were sitting in the body of the court room.

The case was a short one, but was well tried. It was one in which there was little extraneous material injected, and both the district attorney and counsel for the defense seemed to want to get the trial finished as speedily as it could be done without jeopardizing the interests of justice.

The jury took six ballots arriving at a verdict. The first ballot there was one for acquittal, two for manslaughter and the balance for second degree murder. It is understood.

Counsel for Mazzone will present a petition for a new trial, they announced after the verdict was returned.

The maximum penalty for second degree murder is from 10 to 20 years in the penitentiary.

Mrs. Day Taken To New Prison

Removed From Mercer Jail To Muncy To Begin Life Sentence

CONVICTED IN SIDLEY MURDER

(International News Service)
MERCER, Pa., Dec. 22.—Mrs. Frances Hoffman Day, the self-confessed axe murderer of Howard Sidley, a service station owner on the Grove City road, was in the Women's Industrial Home at Muncy today where she has been sentenced to spend the remainder of her life unless later a pardon or commutation is granted.

Mrs. Day was removed from the Mercer county jail to Muncy late yesterday.

William Redfoot, 29, whose confession involved Mrs. Day, is serving 10 to 20 years in the Western Penitentiary.

Redfoot entered a plea of guilty and then testified against Mrs. Day. A few hours before her case was to have gone to the jury Mrs. Day, a former resident of Oil City, Pa., entered a guilty plea.

The third suspect in the case, Fred Goodwin, also indicted by Redfoot, was released without bail and his case was postponed until next spring.

Originally Leroy Palmer, of Grove City, was brought to trial for the killing, but acquitted by a jury.

First Day Of Winter Finds Snow Aplenty

Just Eight Hours And Fifty Minutes Of Daylight Today, "Shortest Day"

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22.—In case there had been any doubt in your mind, winter arrived "officially" today, amid predictions of a "white Christmas" for Pennsylvania.

Preceded by as much as seven inches of snow in some sections of the state, the winter solstice also marked the northern hemisphere's "shortest day" of the year—just eight hours and 50 minutes of daylight.

A three-inch layer of snow slowed down highway traffic in Cambridge and Somerset counties. Kane's state's ice box—reported the five inches and southwestern Pennsylvania was covered by a half inch to an inch fall. Colder temperatures were forecast for eastern Pennsylvania.

Ickes' Speech Brings Protest From Germany

By PIERRE J. HUSS

BERLIN, Dec. 22.—Angry and indignant, the German government protested vigorously to Washington today against the address delivered by Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes in Cleveland, last Sunday assailing Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler as a "brutal dictator."

In terms far stronger than usually employed in diplomatic interchanges the Reich charge D'Affaires in Washington lodged his protest with Sumner Welles, acting secretary of State, accusing Ickes of "insults and rude utterances."

The representation also referred to "vulgar invective" and "defamatory declarations." The controlled Nazi press lost no time in seizing upon the development to let loose a new blast of criticism against the outspoken cabinet officer. Der Angriff went so far as to accuse him inferentially of harboring Bolshevik tendencies.

The protest was made known in a brief communique prepared in Wilhelmstrasse and circulated to all German newspapers and foreign news agencies by the official telegraph service DNB.

That men and women are but children of an older growth, is an old saying that appears to be particularly applicable during the Christmas season. They are still interested in looking at the new kind of toys as they mill around in our stores. At show windows where there are moving trains or mechanical devices, they will stop and look with as much apparent interest as children. Looking at toys seems to awaken in every man and woman thoughts of their childhood. It is a pleasing memory to the most of us.

There are few thrills like skidding on a slippery hill. You may be an expert driver, but once the old bus starts to cut fancy capers, you are about as helpless as a new born babe. Your first inclination is to slap on the brake, a very bad thing to do; better put a little pressure on and throw into low. The best way to avoid skidding is to take no chances when a hill is slippery. You are always in danger on a slippery hill. Even if your own car does make the grade, you can't tell what the other fellow's is going to do.

As Christmas comes on Sunday this year, but will be pretty generally observed on Monday, it offers an opportunity of choosing on which day you will have your Christmas

Franco Moves To Crush Uprising

PURGE BEING MADE IN TROUBLE CENTERS

By KENNETH T. DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Dec. 22.—Insurgent Spanish Generalissimo Francisco Franco moved energetically today to crush an uprising against his regime which broke out in at least four important cities controlled by his troops.

Reports reaching Paris stated wholesale arrests and "liquidations" accompanied a drastic purge of dangerous friends of the Insurgent regime, who were blamed for simultaneous demonstrations against Franco's rule in Saragossa, Segovia, Soria, Pamplona and possibly in other cities.

Arrest Many

Estimates of the number of suspects arrested ranged from 1,000 to 3,000. Many of those taken into custody were described by usually reliable sources as important officers in key insurgent fortifications.

Franco's drive against his "dangerous friends" was described as such huge proportions that it was compared with the famous purge carried out by Chancellor Hitler in Germany on June 30, 1934.

According to reports seeping across the Franco-Spanish frontier through the strict insurgent censorship, Generalissimo Franco's secret police are continuing a house-to-house purge of phalangist leaders in the trouble centers.

Colonel Harrington, an army engineer and close friend of Hopkins, attended the University of Virginia before entering West Point.

Provides For Work To February 28

Rep. Woodrum (D) Virginia, declared that if WPA funds are exhausted as indicated by Williams, the agency will be guilty of violating the Woodrum amendment which provided $1,712,000,000 for various relief agencies, to last until February 28.

Congress not only intended that the fund last until February 28, but the law provides it," said Woodrum.

Under the Woodrum amendment an exception was made "upon the happening of some extraordinary emergency or unusual circumstances." It provided that expenditure of the fund could not be advanced more than a month.

President Roosevelt was given power to cite an emergency but was required to report to congress.

Both Democratic and Republican leaders agreed that emergency funds would be provided to avert a complete WPA shutdown. But the method of spending promised to be a big issue.

"I have an idea that there will be fireworks when additional funds are sought," said Rep. Woodruff (R) Michigan, "both Democrats and Republicans will join in the action. I think many Democrats who have been complacent now realize that we have been traveling a road that leads to the economic scrapheap and will stop it."

"In our country citizenship rests upon the individual and upon the individual rests the responsibility for good government. It is a time when we should think clearly, especially at a time when people are being driven from their homes and thank God, we can still worship God and express our opinions in our country. It is a great democracy."

"I cannot recall the name of everyone here, but I do know every face and I want to say that any time you need to come on any one's shoulder you can come to me and make my shoulder your weeping post. I may have to come to you some time and I know I can."

Mr. Round then said the Pennsylvania Power Company serves and services 1,600 miles of territory and said that when all tasks that electricity can serve, have been done, the company's tasks will be done.

Minstrel Show

The minstrel got under way with N. F. Vidal as interloper and Howard Meahan, John Hensley, Clarence Irwin and Fred Beard as end men. The quartet was composed of Harry Jones, Vincent Wadlinger, Dudley Arnold and Sam Cleary. There were 20 in the cast and the orchestra was composed of employees of the company.

Leon Christy, president of the Penn Power Club, opened the proceedings. C. M. England acted as master of ceremonies for the special occasion in part two of the production, and Kenny Cotton was in charge of the presentation of gifts to employees. They consisted of electric clocks, beautiful floor lamps and other electrical appliances.

Guests were Rufus Moses, division manager, Sharon; Frank A. Connor, division manager, Greenville; Stanley Gillespie, company director, Greenville; Guy Thomas, attorney, Greenville; Dr. J. Luman Popp, this city, and A. H. Fenton, Hadley.

Most folks don't care what the turkey eats, just so they eat the turkey, but in case you've neglected turkeyology in your school studies, Pa New learns from a farmer that corn and wheat make up a large share of the turkey's rations. Both are good fattening cereals, especially after the birds have reached maturity. Experience shows that they are of about equal value in putting fat on the fat that gives the skin of dressed turkeys an appearance of mellowness and finished bloom. Buckwheat is also used in fattening turkeys. On account of the low price of wheat this year, considerable has been fed, but corn is cheaper when it comes to getting the turkey ready for his demise.

Owing to mild weather farmers have not had to do so much pump priming this winter. Now if we could only turn the heat on Washington maybe it wouldn't be necessary to do so much pump priming there. Why not encouragement to business and maybe it will stay primed.

According to a dispatch from Philadelphia, a bride of three hours testified in the domestic relations court that she and her husband could not get along and so they had decided to separate. The colored gentleman in the woodpile seemed to be that all the woman was wanting was somebody to support her. The court refused to compel the husband to do so.

Most of us stop now and then and look into show windows, where we see a variety of creations designed as headgear for the gentler sex. Mere man can't see much change in the styles, but that's because he's too dumb. It don't take a woman long to discover a difference in the crown or the width of the brim. The reason a man can't see any minute changes in women's headgear is because he's used to wearing the same style of a hat year after year. The only time a man's hat changes is when a Community Chest drive or some other excitement is on and he's given a feather to wear in it.

on hand or expected during the day. The formal Christmas program begins tomorrow at 11 a. m., when the president and Mrs. Roosevelt will receive the White House staff in the president's office and distribute presents.

Guests for the next few days included the president's mother, Mrs. James Roosevelt, two of the president's children and their families, several other less closely related, W. P. A. Administrator Harry L. Hopkins and his daughter, Diana, and one other out-of-town visitor.

The eldest son, James, his wife Betsy, their two children, Sara and Kate; Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., his wife, the former Ethel DuPont, and their infant son, Franklin D. Roosevelt, III, were the children and grandchildren to take part in White House activities over the Christmas week end.

Besides the immediate Roosevelt family, Hopkins and his daughter, the holiday guests were Mrs. J. R. Roosevelt of New York, sister-in-law of the president, Harry Hooker of New York, and Hall Roosevelt, also of New York, and a cousin of the president.

Some Open To Public

Part of the Christmas festivities will be open to the public; the big Christmas tree in the East room, trimmed with imitation snow, white streamers and white lights, will be open for public inspection from Dec. 27 on, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 2 p. m.

After the office staff reception tomorrow, the president and Mrs. Roosevelt will spend their time with the family and guests until 3:30 p. m. Saturday, when the White House police force and domestic staff and their families will be received in the East room.

At 5 p. m. Saturday the president, accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, will attend ceremonies incident to the community Christmas tree lighting in Lafayette Park opposite the White House, and the president will deliver holiday greetings to the nation over national radio networks.

Read Christmas Carol

On Saturday evening, in the quiet of the White House proper and surrounded by his family and house guests, the president will observe his annual custom of reading aloud Dickens' Christmas carol—the story of Tiny Tim and Scrooge.

At dawn Christmas morning the children will troop into the president's bedroom—where all the stockings are to be hung—wake up the president and carry on to their hearts' content. This is one of the most enjoyable periods of the whole holiday season to the president.

Gifts for the adult members of the family will be distributed in the afternoon on Christmas Day, after the family returns from services in St. Thomas' Episcopal church.

Tuesday, another White House guest will arrive, debutante Eleanor Roosevelt, a niece of the president and Mrs. Roosevelt. That evening the White House will echo the strains of swing music, and Washington's social set will be entertained.

Thursday afternoon, the kids will have a fun, all to themselves. The White House from 4 to 6 p. m. will play host to youngsters invited by eldest son James' children, Sara and Kate.

G. E. Williams, 214 East street, told police at 4 p. m. Wednesday, he drove his auto from a curb in North Mill street, near North street, and it was struck by a Kline Lumber company truck.

Premier Daladier Wins In Test Vote

Chamber Of Deputies Gives Seven Vote Margin For His Policies

PARIS, Dec. 22.—Premier Edouard Daladier today won a narrow victory in the chamber of deputies on a test of an essential part of his four year plan for national reconstruction.

Thirty four abstentions made it possible for the premier to win a 7-vote majority in the second test of his parliamentary strength since the general strike fiasco.

By 291 to 284, the Chamber ratified insertion in the 1939 budget appropriation of a section approving finance minister Paul Reynaud's decree laws.

Daladier's scheme of putting France's economic and financial house in order by the use of decree laws will face further parliamentary examination tonight and tomorrow. It is expected, however, that the government will be able to win by narrow majorities.

Funeral of Mrs. Samuels.

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Samuels, wife of David Samuels, were held from the family residence in Smithfield street, Wednesday afternoon, with Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, in charge.

A great profusion of beautiful flowers filled the home, mute testimony to the high regard felt for the deceased.

Pallbearers were Thomas Williams, Harold Williams, John Williams, Wayne Phillips, William Sheasley and Clarence Stevens. Interment was in Oak Park cemetery.

Johnson Funeral.

In the presence of a gathering of relatives and friends Wednesday afternoon, funeral services were conducted in the Offutt funeral home on North Mercer street for the late James S. Johnson of Neshannock avenue.

Rev. G. S. Bennett, D. D., pastor of the First Christian church, was in charge. Rev. A. W. Smith, pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church of Rose Point, conducted the service at the grave in Rose Point cemetery.

Pallbearers were Arthur Stanley, William Cromie, James Johnson, Clifford Johnson, William Marquis and James Duffy.

Mrs. Earl Ammons.

Her many New Castle friends were saddened this morning by the death of Mrs. Florence Ammons, aged 59 years, wife of Earl Ammons, of West Washington street extension, which occurred at 7:58 a. m. in the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Ammons had been seriously ill for the past two weeks. Her passing is a blow to her family and friends, although it was known several days ago that she could not recover.

She was born in Shippensburg, Pa. on May 28, 1886, daughter of John L. and Lydia G. Porter Montgomery. She resided in New Castle's West side for many years, and was a member of the First Christian church.

Her husband, one son, Gerald, one grandchild, little Carole Ammons, this city, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Montgomery, of Morgantown, W. Va., and the following brothers and sisters survive: George Montgomery, of Core, W. Va.; J. M. Montgomery, of New Castle; P. R. Gargner, of New Castle; Mrs. William Sayers, of New Castle; Mrs. Noah Moore, of Morgantown, W. Va.; Mrs. J. P. Statler of Chappell, Neb.; and Mrs. O. W. Rouse, of Weirton, W. Va.

The body is at the residence and funeral services will be conducted there on Saturday at 2:00 p. m. with Dr. G. S. Bennett of the First Christian church in charge. Interment will be in Castle View Burial Park.

George W. Hackett.

George W. Hackett, aged 58 years, of Warren, O., who came here Wednesday evening to visit his son, Edward C. Hackett, at 717 Butler avenue, died there this morning as the result of an acute heart attack.

Mr. Hackett was born in Niles, O. on June 23, 1880, son of Thomas and Carolyn Frye Hackett. He married Margaret Shaffer, who with the following children survives: Mrs. Helen Mary Sloan, Parkers Landing; Mrs. Betty McCalland, Edward C. Hackett, Donald Francis Hackett and Robert G. Hackett, of New Castle.

The deceased also leaves six grandchildren, the following brothers, Frank of Warren, O., Albert of Niles, David of Sharon and James of Beaver, and one sister, Mrs. James Craig of Sharon.

He was formerly employed by the Elma Standard Machine Shop, in Warren.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

William H. Boyd.

William H. Boyd, aged 70 years, formerly of 1018 West Washington street, passed away last night in the home of his sister, Mrs. Chauncey L. Campbell, 54 South Lee avenue, where he had been residing for the past four months during his illness.

Mr. Boyd died at 12:50 a. m., the result of a heart condition. He was born in New Castle on August 5, 1868, member of an old New Castle family. His parents were Thomas and Sarah Gibbs. He passed all his life here. Originally a glass blower, he later was employed on the city police force, the city fire department, and of late years had been a W. P. A. foreman.

He is survived by one son, Kenneth Boyd of Youngstown, O., four grandchildren in Youngstown, two sisters, Mrs. George Fix and Mrs. Chauncey Campbell, of New Castle, and one brother, James Boyd of Anderson, Ind.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home of his sister, 54 South Lee avenue, with Dr. G. S. Bennett of the First Christian church in charge. Interment will be in Oak Park cemetery.

CHIMNEY FIRE

City firemen were called to the home of Albert S. Rowan of 927 Franklin avenue at 10:16 p. m. when the chimney burned out. No fire resulted, however, and no action was taken by the firemen.

SEX MANIAC IS SUSPECT SOUGHT IN GIRL'S MURDER

and hips. One eye was swollen. Margaret's legs had been doubled and her knees placed under her chin before a heavy clothesline was wound around the body.

After a preliminary examination, Coroner Ray W. Greenwood expressed belief death may have resulted from strangulation. Autopsy surgeons found finger bruises about the girl's throat but must await the results of their autopsy to determine whether she had been criminally attacked.

Dead For 24 Hours

They estimated Margaret had been dead at least 24 hours before her body was found in the isolated district about 30 miles northwest of Kingston.

Major William H. Clark headed a group of state police who ran down every available clue although those in hand are meagre. The scene of the search was scrutinized thoroughly and residents of the immediate vicinity were being questioned.

From the start Clark held to the theory that Margaret was "snatched" by a sex fiend.

The manner in which the body was found and stuffed into the bag whose opening had been stitched with a twine convinced him that the murder took place elsewhere. One knot of the twine apparently slipped open, permitting the girl's arm to protrude.

Margaret's father, John, a coal mine foreman and Democratic committeeman in Kingston, said: "Our little girl fought for herself and died the pure girl she was."

From her weeping, heart-broken mother came:

"She is with God today."

The Martins have three other children, Mary, 17; Helen, 15, and Jack, 12.

Gruesome Discovery

The gruesome discovery was made by Anthony Rezikowski, 19-year-old trapper who has snares under the bridge, located in dense woodlands. Anthony said the bag lay in about two feet of water.

Started when he discovered it contained a body, Anthony notified police.

Lieut. Charles S. Cooke, heading a detail of state police, asserted the girl's murderer apparently was some one familiar with the Wyoming county woodlands. He said the slayer had driven a car to a point 75 yards from the bridge and then carried the body to the spot where it was abandoned.

"Some one familiar with the territory placed the body in the creek and it might not have been found for several years if the young man setting traps had not passed through the lonely section," said Cooke.

Since Margaret left home Saturday morning authorities had suspected that she either was the victim of a sex maniac or had fallen prey to white slavers. The absence of ransom notes lent strength to this theory.

When Margaret departed to keep her appointment with the mysterious telephone caller, she promised to come "right back." When she failed to return by mid-afternoon her worried parents notified authorities who immediately solicited the aid of nine states in a hunt for her.

Police believe the person who telephoned her obtained her name from the Wilkes-Barre Business school from which she was graduated with honors last June.

They pointed out that she was unusually pretty. She enjoyed social functions and had occasional "dates" with boy friends. However, both her family and the authorities insisted that she did not have "dates" with strangers.

Join Hunt For Pervert

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Dec. 22.—Luzerne county authorities, headed by District Attorney Leo Schwartz and chief county detective Richard Fogel, today joined in the widespread manhunt for a sex pervert believed to be the murderer of 19-year-old Margaret Martin, Kingston Business School graduate.

The mutilated body of Miss Martin was found last night trussed in a burlap bag in Keelersburg creek, near Tunkhannock.

Although the hunt has been transferred to another county, Schwartz and Fogel left for Tunkhannock this morning.

Miss Martin, missing from Saturday, may have been slain within the confines of Luzerne county and the body transported to the place where it was found.

RAINBOW GIRLS YULE EVENT AT CATHEDRAL

Rainbow Girls, New Castle Assembly No. 1, gathered in the Scottish Rite Cathedral on Wednesday evening for their annual Christmastide party, which too, drew to a close, a most successful season of social activities for the organization.

A short business session was called with worthy advisor Mary Keeler in the chair. Mrs. Orville Potter is mother advisor of the group. A good attendance was noted, including guests from Sharon as well as parents of the membership.

After important items were given consideration, a social period was in progress, taking place in the reception lobby leading to the chapter room. It was colorfully decorated in Yuletide theme. From a long table set off in the glow of lighted red tapers, refreshments were later served. This feature was under the direction of Mrs. Bessie Pitzer, Mrs. Charles E. Allen and Miss Martha Bigley.

Preceding, however, C. W. Herman Hess gave an inspiring talk on "The Spirit of Christmas" and urged that it be carried all through the year of 1939. His message was enthusiastically received. Mrs. Lenore Urey, Miss Martha Bigley and Mrs. Orville Potter each responded with appropriate talks afterwards.

Their next gathering will be on Wednesday, January 4, in the Cathedral, with election of officers, taking place.

WALMO KENSINGTON GROUP YULE PARTY

Mrs. Ellwood Stutchberry of Walmo was hostess to members of the Walmo Kensington at their Christmas party on Wednesday afternoon. A delicious 1 o'clock luncheon was served to the group when they arrived. A gift exchange was a feature of the event.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CULTURE FOR YOUTH

When a woman's club really does something in its community, it is news. When it does something nation-wide, it is greater news.

Over in Maplewood, N. J., about five years ago, Dorothy McFadden, mother of a boy and girl, heard her fellow club members bewail the lack of good cultural entertainments for children.

"We can have them," said Mrs. McFadden, and she went out and founded the Junior Programs. This non-commercial, non-profit organization sends out traveling companies to put on children's programs in towns from Maine to Oklahoma. Its three troupes—opera, stage and ballet—have presented such favorites as Hansel and Gretel and The Princess and the Swineherd in 29 states. During this year Junior Programs will probably reach over a million children of primary school age.

Superintendents of schools, supervisors of art, music and dancing make use of the materials provided by the organization. These materials include suggested reading, phonograph records and sheet music, biographies of authors and composers, and stories of the various productions composed for children of different age levels.

Able Artists

The audiences, which number from 300 to 3,000, see the work of some of the ablest artists. For example, Cecile Sherman, who has appeared with the Cincinnati and San Carlo opera companies, is the tiny prima donna of The Bumble Prince. Recently three Junior Program singers have been engaged by the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Comparing conditions in America with those she saw in Europe, Mrs. McFadden concludes that it is the fault of American parents, not their children, that culture and the arts play second fiddle with young people in this country to coarser elements in our civilization. If left alone, a child will instinctively enjoy beauty and a good drama whenever it is presented to him, she believes.

"Something must happen to them in the interval, so that when they are grown up, the great mass of people patronize the most magnificent pictures, vaudeville and burlesque shows, and stay away from the finest music the opera and theater offer."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

MUST HAVE SALESMEN

Mr. Cameron, of the Ford Motor Company, talked at one of the recent Sunday evening concerts radioed over America, on the subject of "Salesmanship." Those who listened may remember that he said that of recent years American citizens had been buyers not sellers, and that it was time that the art of salesmanship was revived.

A friend of mine startled me the other day with the assertion that all of his life insurance policies had been bought by him over the counter in the offices of life insurance companies; that although he had lived during this period, in one city, not a single life insurance agent had ever called upon him. Such a statement may seem absurd, for when one thinks of a life insurance agent, he thinks of very intensive salesmanship.

After listening to Mr. Cameron, I have talked to several men whose business is such that it would seem that only salesmanship could produce results. One friend has a very large automobile business. He has to sell used cars, as well as new cars, for he is constantly taking cars in part trade for new cars. He said, "Yes, I have several good salesmen, but I have only one that makes it his business to go out and interview possible buyers for more than two-thirds of my sales are made by salesmen on the floor of my show room or on my used car lot."

It does seem incredible that American business has fallen down so badly in this particular. When it comes to talking about a revival of salesmanship, it is not high time that the up and coming business men of New Castle should search his soul for ways and means by which he and his friends could "sell" New Castle?

THE FORGOTTEN MAN

Lady, never mind the die.
This I'd have you know,
I'm that strange old-fashioned guy
Addicted to the bow.

Should you have one thought for me
Pass the peckwater stand.
Such brocades would useless be
If they're four-in-hand.

Lady, should you struggle through
All the tie-die shirks
You'll discover nothing new Fashioned into bows.

Save your time and spare your eyes,
Lady, let it go.
We're the poor forgotten guys
Who can tie a bow.

Let me tell you once again
There is nothing new!
No one thinks of bow-tie men!
Lady, why should you?

We still don't know who sent us the box of home-made candy a few days ago. We would appreciate it if the person who sent it would tell us who they are. It's no good to us unless we know who sent it.

Gov. James in his first speech since he was elected said: "This is the time for deeds and not words. It is a time when actions speak louder than banquets." We say Amen to those words.

A WIFE'S SOLILLIQUAY

You're fat an' Adonis;
You're fat an' rather bald—
Just an "average husband"
Is what you would be called.

You fall asleep while reading
And goodness how you snore!
The jokes you keep repeating
Quite often are a bore.

You grumble at expenses
And wonder "what's the use?"
Then indulge your family
At the least excuse.

You're not a Wall Street wizard
A genius or a star
But I am now confessing
I like you as you are!

If that Memphis, Tenn., cobbler who has inherited $30,000 and has only 90 days in which to spend it needs any expert advice, all he has to do is to call in some congressman.

It is not good Christmas giving when some group gets more than it can take care of and many just as deserving get nothing. See to it that what you give gets to a good place.

Spying his wife with a Volunteer fireman Leo Haisch, of Pithouge, N. Y., turned in a fire alarm, figuring that the fireman would be punished for not answering the alarm. When the other firemen found no fire, Haisch was arrested and fined $25. For not answering the alarm, the fireman-companion of Haisch's wife was fined 25 cents.

PEOPLE WE HAVE MET

It takes all kinds of people—An acquaintance of mine is a cynic, a vegetarian, a critic of preachers, of office holders, mayors, boards of supervisors, Townsend speakers, merchants, doctors, lawyers, all women and most men. He is a bachelor, past 50, can't stand cold consommé, milk, eggs, fish, fowl, or beans; he is a member of no church, club or fraternal society, no writer, modern or ancient, pleases him: he eats a pound of black grapes for lunch and talks for hours about his personal likes and dislikes.

I asked him the other day what the world would be like if every person in it took him for a model, and did exactly as he did. He actually said that would be fine! No more children would be born—the earth would cease to be inhabited. No farmers would raise anything but grapes and spinach. No more elections, moving pictures, radio, or printing presses. No churches, schools, or Townsend clubs. No more women—then he grunted some new complaint and went away.

I tell him if he lived in India he would be one of those self-cruel fliers who walk on hot and sharp spikes to get even with themselves for enjoying something they did in the distant past. It takes all kinds of people.

One thing we agree on—neither he nor I like garden snails or okra.

Last spring a friend of ours in New York sent us a bronze dog. We left it just where the truckmen stood it. It weighs over 300 pounds. Now this same chap sends us a little woolly dog weighing about three pounds for a Christmas gift. We do not know what it is made of but it don't bark or bother the neighbors bushes either.

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By Francine Markel

Mothers who bemoan the fact that their daughters have reached 15 or 16 with nothing on their minds but boys and the jitterbug craze should realize that, since most of us have passed through such a stage, it must be ordained by nature. Don't try to thwart this natural instinct. Welcome their friends into your home. Make it your business to know their associates and where they go. Give parties for the youngsters, allow them to have "dates" at home on nights that will not interfere with their studies. They will have an active interest in the opposite sex, despite your objections. So you may as well give your consent to their meeting their friends where you may keep a watchful eye on their activities and thus prevent the danger of secret meetings.

Reader's Question Answered

Dear Miss Markel—A chum of mine is to be married soon. Her wedding will be private, including members of her family only. Would it be correct for me to give her a shower?—BETTY.

Answer—Yes. You may, by all means, give your chum a shower. The fact that she is to have a private wedding makes no difference. I think she would appreciate such thoughtfulness.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader including a self-addressed three-cent stamped envelope.

Tomorrow—Do Not Develop a Sharp Tongue.

Percy—Did you fill your big date last night?
Alford—I hope so; she ate everything in sight at two night clubs and a restaurant.

"Chicken in the Rough" is now being served in some western restaurants. It is served without knife or fork and is grabbed by the fingers. We never knew chicken was to be eaten with a knife and fork and have always eaten ours in the rough, so that's nothing new on us.

Mr. Flatt—I do what?
Miss Sharp—Presume.

What's What At A Glance

Envoys' Return Stirs Interest
Post President On Conditions
Five Ambassadors Are Recalled

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 22.—Five of Uncle Sam's most important ambassadors either are in the United States now, have just been here or will arrive shortly to post President Roosevelt personally concerning conditions in the various foreign countries in which they represent us. The list includes Joseph P. Kennedy, here from London; William C. Bullitt, from Paris; Hugh R. Wilson, from Berlin; William Phillips, from Rome; Nelson T. Johnson, from Chungking, China. And it's reported that Joseph C. Grew will be summoned soon from Tokyo. That will make six altogether. Never before in the memory of the oldest inhabitants has there been such a veritable convention of America's key diplomats in Washington, practically all at once. Probably our ambassador in Moscow would be brought home also, but that berth's vacant at present; a charge d'affaires is holding down the job.

This gathering of diplomatic talent at the White House and adjoining State Department building is highly significant.

Watching Overseas

What it signifies is that the Roosevelt administration is interested in overseas developments as no past administration ever has been except during the World War period. It bears testimony likewise to the administration's appreciation of the situation's biliousness and to its realization of the widespread character of the danger. On earlier occasions a single ambassador now and then has been called from his post to enlighten the President as to some ominous state of affairs with which he is especially familiar. A regular worldwide convocation, however, is unprecedented.

Secretary of State Hull's trip to Peru fits into the picture too. The Pan-American conference was scheduled well before European, African and Asiatic complications had become as alarming as they are today. Nevertheless, the Pan-American conferees couldn't but take into account the peril from over the water.

Secretary Hull's task has been to line up the Americas so as to keep this hemisphere out of whatever may happen elsewhere.

He has been remarkably efficient at it. I knew he would be. Hull is the temperament to get on with our Latin neighbors. I've seen considerable comment to the effect that they're more afraid of us than of Germany, Italy or Japan. It's true that they have feared us, but the last 10 years have tolerably cured them of it. Contrariwise, Hitler and Mussolini have cured them of a lot of their liking for Germany and Italy. They never did like Japan.

And it's reasoned that the American Latin republics are not a bit truly democratic. Maybe not, but they have democratic traditions; they like to consider themselves democracies. As between being slightly fearful of the "Colossus of the North" and the prospect of being bossed by a Hitler or a Mussolini, they'll take the Colossus risk any old time. They proved it during the World War. Most of them sided against the Central Powers. They're more our way now than they were then, because we've been decenter to them in the meantime.

Besides, they have plenty of sense enough not to care to be mixed into any old world rumpus. They do have their local German and Italian influences, but they're not dominant. And they have their local dictators, but these dictators aren't Naziistic or Fascistic. They CALL themselves democracies.

A World Situation

Anyway, that Pan-American conference has been part of the world situation.

We've called our American ambassadors home from Europe and Asia to ask them, "What about it?" Regardless of their answers, we can't do much about it.

Possibly we can keep our own western hemisphere out of the seemingly impending rumpus. Latin America appears to be sympathetic. As a long-time North American Latin-American my motto is:

"Let the rest of the world fight it out, if it's bound to do so."

"Let us Americans stick together."

In the Argentine Republic you have compulsory voting. You vote or you go to jail. They don't enforce the system. There are so many non-voters that, if they enforced it, the jails wouldn't hold the violators. I always deemed it a silly law until an Argentine explained it to me.

"Originally," he said, "the employer told his workers, 'Vote as I say or you'll lose your job.' Then the secret ballot system was adopted. The employer then said, 'Don't vote at all.'"

"Democracy's answer was to say, 'Vote or go to jail!'"

It hasn't worked very well, but I call it super-democracy.

The Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright, 1938)

Transparent Bluff

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. NOTHING more bombastic and preposterous has happened in politics for a long time than the recent announcement by Mr. John L. Lewis, of the C. I. O., of his purpose to run the Democratic party, manage its convention and pick its candidate in 1940. Because, in effect, that is what he told the newspapermen whom he summoned to a press conference in Washington on Saturday.

THIS sort of thing makes it pretty hard to take Mr. Lewis seriously. Impossible to take him in this as seriously as he seems to take himself. The surprising thing is that the glibness of the press can be stretched to the extent of giving space to these pontifical political pronouncements, the hollowness of which should be apparent to any reasonably posted person. It seems a sucker play to fall so often for this type of publicity stunt. The bare facts make the whole business seem ridiculous.

HERE is a labor leader who has been twice politically discredited by popular vote in less than a year. Last spring Mr. Lewis made a bid for political power, which if successful would have put him in very strong position. It would have insured him the seventy-two Pennsylvania delegates to the Democratic convention and greatly increased his prestige. But it didn't succeed. On the contrary, though backed by the Federal machine, the WPA organization, all of Senator Guffey's jobholders and his own well-financed cohorts, his ticket was badly beaten in the primaries. In the general election six months later candidates supported by him were defeated in Pennsylvania, Michigan, Ohio and other states. In neither primary nor general election was there a single outstanding instance of a C. I. O.-supported candidate pulling through because he had C. I. O. endorsement.

ON THE contrary, to most of them it proved fatal. Democrats and Republicans alike are agreed that the two things which caused the big shift in public sentiment last November were, first, popular reaction against the vast waste of public funds by the New Deal, and second, popular reaction toward the extent to which the New Deal is allied with the C. I. O., which in the public mind is thoroughly identified with the sit-down strike and regarded as having a slightly Communistic flavor. There isn't a competent politician or political observer who does not know this to be true—not one who isn't clear that in the last campaign Mr. Lewis and his C. I. O. propaganda constituted a liability and not an asset.

IN FACE of these facts, for Mr. Lewis now to call a press conference and declare that through his Labor's Non-partisan League, which is one of the phoniest paper organizations in existence, he intends to go into the fight to elect delegates to the Democratic convention; for him to warn Democrats that they must accept the pompous platform outlined in his statement; for him to imply that unless they nominate candidates to suit him they must "take the consequences"—these things admit of but two conclusions: either Mr. Lewis is now bereft of all sense of proportion or he is one of the most solemn bluffers of our time.

The latter view, of course, is the reasonable one. Bluffs like these are essential to leaders like Mr. Lewis even when they are on the upgrade; they become vitally so after they

Pageant Tonight In Ward Church

"The Holy Grail" Will Be Dramatized By Cast From Methodist Church

Annual Christmas pageant for the Mahoning Methodist church will be presented tonight by the high school department of the Sunday school. "The Holy Grail" is the title of the pageant and it will be presented in the auditorium of the Methodist church.

The story of the pageant traces the search by King Arthur and his knights for the Holy Grail. The cast will be assisted during the pageant by the church choir.

New Heating Plant To Be Installed

Plans have been completed for the installation of a new heating plant in the Strawhecker building, corner of Cherry and Cedar streets, soon.

Trouble developed Monday morning at 3 o'clock, when the boiler broke down. Except for the quick action of S. S. Strayer, fireman for the building, a great deal of damage might have been created by the mishap.

The new boiler and heater will be installed in a few days, it was learned.

Skating Rink In Ward Is Flooded

Expect To Have Skating Tonight On Rink Sponsored By Progressive Club

Through the cooperation of Jack Brettel, city street commissioner, and J. L. Matthews, superintendent of the City of New Castle Water company, the Seventh Ward Progressive club will open a fine skating rink tonight to the public.

Water was turned into the rink Wednesday, and according to Albert Dottle, president of the club, it is expected that skating will be possible tonight.

Several months ago the Progressive club began the work of erecting this skating rink. Street Commissioner Brettel with his crew of workmen aided in the move. Wednesday, water from a fire hydrant on Montgomery avenue was turned into the rink.

Plans announced today are for the erection of lights at the rink to permit night skating. Seats are being built by the Progressive club for the spectators and skaters.

Dottle wished to make it clear today that the rink is open to the general public.

BRIDGETTES AT WEISBAKER HOME

Miss Geraldine Weisbaker, North Cedar street, was a pleasing hostess for members of the Bridgettes club when they gathered in her home on Tuesday evening.

Main division of the hours was the playing of 500. High score prizes were awarded to Miss Mildred Broadus and Jean Hamilton.

This was the annual Christmas party and an exchange of gifts featured the program. A delicious luncheon was served by Miss Weisbaker.

Next meeting will be in three weeks at the home of Mildred Broadus, Fourth street.

The Great Game Of Politics

have been licked and their prestige begins to shrink.

HOWEVER, that should not obscure the feebleness of Mr. Lewis' threats nor his obvious futility to affect the situation in 1940—particularly as to convention delegates. No wonder Mr. Lewis was irritated when reporters asked him how many members there really are in his Non-partisan League, whether he still regards it as non-partisan and where he would go with his troops if the Democratic convention refused to follow his advice. There isn't any answer to these questions—particularly the last—that would not leave Mr. Lewis looking silly. Therefore, he grumpily refused to answer.

THE TRUTH is that announcement of his purpose to operate within the Democratic party, transparent bluff though it is, will be an embarrassment to the Democrats and an aid to the Republicans. It means that the former will have to defensively explain that theirs is not the sit-down strike party. The effect of the Lewis statements will be to make more acute the differences between Anti-New Deal Democrats, who have always resented the C. I. O.-White House alliance, and the New Dealers, who have so heavily leaned on it. It leaves the Republicans free to sail in and further capitalize the anti-C. I. O. anti-sit-down strike and anti-Communist sentiment that had so much to do with their November success. It was different in 1936, but now the time has come when the ideas of being loaded down with Mr. Lewis in the 1940 convention is an unpleasant one to thoughtful Democrats.

Blind Have Party In Y. W. Wednesday

Wednesday evening the men and women of the Lawrence County Branch, Pennsylvania Federation for the Blind, gathered for their annual Christmas party in the green room on the third floor of the Y. W. C. A.

Thirty members and guides attended and all had a very pleasant evening. Lunch was served by the wives and mothers of members. Carols, other old time music and a "true and false" contest won by Joe Gumenny, interested the guests.

Mrs. Clark Gable Is In No Hurry To File For Divorce

(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 22.—Although Clark Gable and his estranged wife appeared to have reached an agreement on money matters, Mrs. Gable today was showing no signs of beginning divorce proceedings, as recently requested by the famous movie star.

Word that the couple, separated for the last three years, had reached an agreement on the matter in which Gable was to pay Mrs. Gable the balance of a reported $300,000 came from Mrs. Gable's attorney, who said a preliminary hearing in court would be put off the calendar.

Fifteen Held On Lottery Charges In Mercer County

(International News Service)
FARRELL, Pa., Dec. 22.—Fifteen men today were under bail ranging from $1,000 to $2,500 each after being arrested by state motor police on charges of operating a lottery. Police claimed the raid had revealed the headquarters for the district's "numbers" racket. All the men put up the bail and were released for a further hearing before Justice of the Peace T. W. McClain, at Mercer, on Friday. Louis Rossi was charged with being manager of the lottery by police. A truck load of furniture and office equipment and records were confiscated, according to authorities.

William Bryan Home After Long Cruise

Travels 17,000 Miles On
Shake-Down Cruise Of U.
S. S. Nashville

William Ray Bryan, who makes his home at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Laverder, New Castle, R. D. 7, arrived here on Wednesday for a seven day leave of absence from the United States Naval Service.

Bryan just returned from a long cruise of approximately 17,000 miles aboard the U. S. S. Nashville, one of the navy's newest cruisers on its initial shake-down voyage. The Nashville is a 10,000 ton cruiser and was recently commissioned. While aboard the Nashville, Bryan visited the following foreign ports: Cuba, England, France and Sweden. Bryan was enlisted at the local navy office, January 10, of this year.

Killer Of Five Is Being Sought

Blood Stained Piece Of Pipe
Only Clue For Georgia
Officials To Follow

(International News Service)
SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 22.—A blood stained pipe today provided police with their chief clue in hunting the maniacal killer of five white persons, four of them members of one family.

It was hoped the bludgeon would yield fingerprints through which the slayer could be traced. No motive for the mass killing could be found, investigators said.

The victims were J. S. Tillman, a WPA worker, his wife and their two small children, and Tom Chester, who lived in an adjoining cottage. Chester, who had been shot, apparently interrupted the killer as he beat the Tillmans to death in their beds.

Firemen Recall Blaze Of Year Ago

Today Is Anniversary Of Auten-reith Blaze Which Put Eighteen In Hospital

Today is the anniversary of one of the most spectacular fires which ever occurred in the city, and which put eighteen firemen in the two local hospitals for treatment from noxious fumes.

On December 22, 1937, fire broke out in the basement of the Auten-reith store on East Washington street, spreading to materials which contained cellulose compounds and creating a gas, which over came the firemen one after another.

Significantly enough, inquiry at the fire department today reveals the fact that although so many firemen were overcome, due to the fact that they did not possess adequate gas masks, the city has not taken action to provide the department with protection against another such occurrence.

Five centuries ago, Chinese inventors made a rocket airplane. The rockets exploded simultaneously, killing the inventors.

Suggest New Date For License Plates

After digging down into your genuine cowhide purse for Christmas presents, civic drives, church dues, and other things falling due at the end of the year, there's one more cut at your purse, automobile license tags.

The Man Who Pays The Bills rises this pleasant winter afternoon to ask why it wouldn't be possible to have the license plates expire late in January or the middle of February and thus give a fellow a chance to have a couple of dimes over the Christmas holiday.

It's a good idea, so good that 26 states of the Union have adopted it. Expiration dates run from February 1 to October 31. One state has September 30 as its expiration date, 1 has October 31, one has February 1, seven have February 28, 2 have March 1st, 10 have March 31st, 2 have April 1, and 1 has June 30.

Politicians say we'll always have twenty million to support in idleness. Ah, well, it was done for generations before the ladies got jobs.

First Surprise Witness Called For Grand Jury Probe

Harrisburg Man To Be Examined

Former Finance Chairman
Of Dauphin County Democrats Subpoenaed

SHELLEY SILENT UPON DEVELOPMENT

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Dec. 22.—In a surprise move, the Dauphin county grand jury investigating charges of graft and corruption in the Democratic state government today apparently prepared to discard—temporarily at least—its probe of the so-called "Eric" "gravel scandal".

The only matter on which it was believed the jury had thus far heard witnesses, the Eric probe had been expected to have been completed before any other charges were investigated.

However, District Attorney Carl B. Shelley disclosed that Clyde H. Smith, former finance chairman of the Dauphin county Democratic committee and a well-known Capitol Hill figure, had been subpoenaed.

First Surprise Witness
Smith was the first real "surprise" witness subpoenaed since the grand jury convened a week ago and his summoning was still more surprising in light of the fact that he had never been mentioned in connection with the Eric case of two years ago.

Shelley refused to comment on the subpoena issued to Smith, but it was believed the latter had not been one of the 49 Shelley said he had summoned last week. There was no indication as to what charges Smith would be questioned about.

Shelley declined to say whether he had uncovered any new evidence which might link Smith with any of the charges and he also refused to say on what date Smith would be called upon to testify.

Meanwhile, Spurgeon Bowser, president of the Pioneer Materials company of Kittanning, spent all day yesterday before the grand jury and was scheduled to return again this morning. Bowser was believed to have been questioned about alleged discrepancies in gravel contracts.

Lexicographer Called By Death

Dr. Frank H. Vizetelly, 74,
Editor Of "Funk And Wagnalls" Is Summoned

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The widow of Dr. Frank H. Vizetelly, 74, eminent lexicographer who died yesterday, today considered carrying out one of his last requests—to be buried at sea.

Funeral services for the man who edited the Funk and Wagnalls "New Standard Dictionary" for many years, will be conducted tomorrow morning. Two weeks ago Vizetelly was stricken with pleurisy and pneumonia.

Dr. Vizetelly came to the United States from England in 1891 and devoted his life to a study of words. He authored a score of books, mostly concerned with the English language. Its usage, idioms and its slang. Long before he became an American citizen in 1926, Dr. Vizetelly was a staunch defender of the American language and the American accent. He mined no words in superior to the British. During radio talks he advised his listeners to "talk American" and avoid the "follies of Oxford and the English 'public school' products."

Of Co. B, 16th P. V. I., To Occur At Castleton

Members of Company B of the old 16th regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, who saw service together in Porto Rico, are looking forward to their get-together at the Castleton on next Wednesday evening, December 28. From present indications, quite a few of the old boys will be present to renew old friendships. This will be the first reunion in many years and is the intention to organize and elect officers.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock, after which there will be an interesting program. A number of invited guests will speak and the reorganization meeting will follow.

Word has been received from Percy Tellow, a former member of the company, who is now chairman of the National Bituminous Commission at Washington, D. C., stating that he will be here for the occasion. The committee in charge is leaving no stones unturned to make this a gala affair.

These new prefabricated houses won't ever seem homelike. There isn't any plaster to crack.

BROTHERS' WED SISTERS
(International News Service)
VEJLE, Norway.—Two brothers, Henry and Ernst Skovsgaard, who are farmers, married two sisters here on the same day. Their brides were Petra and Maren Hansen. Among the wedding guests were the bridegrooms' father and his brother, who also married two sisters on the same day some years ago.

Blowfoot (after midnight)—Did you know that I can imitate any bird that you can name?
Miss Zimpir—Indeed! Suppose you start with the homing pigeon.

Railroads And Auto-Truckers In Rate Fight

Railroads Will Announce Rate For Hauling Of New Cars Below Auto-
Truckers

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. — A nation-wide rate war between railroads and trucks for the business of transporting automobiles from factories to dealers, was revealed today in a petition filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The petition, presented to the I. C. C. by the National Automobile Transporters Association, a division of the American Trucking Association, Inc., asked that proposed reduced rates of the railroads be suspended.

The transporters association also petitioned the commission to inaugurate a general investigation into freight charges on automobiles.

The proposed new railroad rates, scheduled to become effective January 1, will be considerably below truck rates and is feared by the automobile transporters will result in forcing them out of business, the petition said.

Is Big Business
Carriers by truck in recent years have handled approximately one-half of automobiles delivered from manufacturer to dealer. This branch of transportation represents an investment of $25,000,000 and employs about 5,000 men, it was said.

A rate war, it was claimed, was prompted by manufacturers pitting one transportation agency against another in bidding for the motor factories' million carloads of freight.

The petition said that attempts of the automobile transporters and the railroads to get together on parity rates have been futile, the New York Central holding out for rates below truck charges.

REAL ESTATE INVENTORY IS NOT APPROVED

Council Does Not Accept Proposal Of W. P. A. At Session This Morning

Council met today in city hall and informed J. W. Ely, who is in charge of professional or "white collar" projects for WPA, that council does not, at this time, possess sufficient funds which would result in their making an appropriation of approximately $1,000 for a real estate inventory house.

Ely, Herbert, Kirk and other interested parties met with the body to secure a decision as to the city's attitude.

Herbert Kirk said he had been unable to contact officials of the mayor's relief committee in an effort to secure $1,000, in possession of that organization and which they hoped could be used as the "city's share" of cost of a real estate inventory. The WPA had secured an allotment of $28,000 for the proposed project, it was stated by Ely.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath, in response to Kirk's urge that the city contribute its share, said that, only this morning, several business men had requested a lowering of their property assessments and said if such had to be made, demands would have to decrease.

He said the city had appropriated only sufficient money to take care of present projects.

Ely then said that "I take it now that council does not see fit to appropriate funds for the project and I am authorized to cancel the proposed real estate inventory."

"That is the situation. Council does not have the money," Mayor
McGrath replied.

However, Finance Director James
L. Pink explained he did not want Ely to depart with the understanding that the door was closed tight to such a project in the future. He added that if financial conditions became better, say, in the middle of 1939, "we would entertain such a project."

The proposed real estate inventory was advocated as a step toward the creation of a local housing authority here.

It would result, Ely said recently, in the "white collar" workers now on other WPA jobs, being transferred to the "white collar" division, because of their qualifications, if they were affected by a lay-off order.

Injunction In
Levin Seating
Is Continued

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Dec. 22. — The Dauphin county court today continued the injunction barring Senator-elect Herbert Levin, Philadelphia Democrat, from taking his seat in the 1939 Pennsylvania Senate.

The court continued the injunction pending action in a Philadelphia court on a writ brought by Levin's Republican opponent, Samuel W. Salus, contesting the election results. Salus, a veteran G. O.
P. legislator, was defeated by 47 votes.

TROOP 23
Members of the Girl Scout, Troop
23, held their meeting Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at Croton school.
Carols were sung under the direction of Miss Dorothy Patch. The meaning of Christmas was discussed.
Under the supervision of Miss Leona
Sankey, Christmas gifts were made by the scouts, until the close of the meeting.

On January 3, the scouts will hold their next meeting.

TROOP 22
Girls of Troop 22 held their regular meeting in Highland church on Tuesday. They had their Christmas dinner, which was attended by 27 people. Following this delicious dinner, which was served by the scouts, a question bee was conducted with prizes going to Martha Chamberlain and Helen Sisley.

The girls exchanged gifts. Plans were made to go carolling on Friday evening of this week with Mrs. Thos.
I. Elliott, their leader.
Scribe, Elizabeth Burton.

Attacks W. P. A. 'Teacher's Guide' On Soviet Russia

By WALTER KIERNAN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
(Copyright, 1938, by International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Charging that the newly issued WPA teachers' guide to Soviet Russia is "insidious propaganda," Rep. J. Farnell Thomas of New Jersey, a member of the Dies Committee, today demanded that WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins immediately order its withdrawal from circulation.

And he warned that "I intend to refer the matter to the committee on un-American activities with a recommendation that it be thoroughly investigated."

Of the guide, issued in New York City, Thomas wrote:

"The whole guide for some reason or another paints a very rosy picture of one of the most backward nations in the world. It practically advocates more Russia and less United States."

"It is so far from the truth that I will term it insidious propaganda for a kind of government which we do not want to advocate to the children of the United States of America."

Gas Company Force Enjoys Yule Party

Safety Meeting And Christmas Party Attended By 60 Persons, Wednesday

Close to 60 persons gathered for the safety meeting and Christmas party held by employees and officials of the New Castle district of the Manufacturers Light & Heat company, in the East street headquarters of the company, Wednesday evening.

Henry W. Jeffries, chairman of the safety committee, introduced William Haley, who is in charge of the W.P.A. safe driving school conducted here. Haley explained the various regulations of the motor vehicle code. His talk was most interesting. Private Buhler of the State Motor Police, told about various laws governing the vehicle code and then answered a number of questions asked by the audience.

W. G. Aaron of the Pittsburgh office of the firm, told the gathering that the company is deeply concerned in keeping down the number of accidents throughout its organization.

The exchange of gifts proved one of the highlights of the occasion. Delicious refreshments were served during the course of the event. The committee in charge: James Shaw, Harry Jeffries and Francis Quinn. Those present included employees and officials of the New Castle and Ellwood City offices.

Tonight, in a tea room along the Mt. Jackson road, employees of the New Castle office will hold a Christmas party, starting at 6:30 o'clock.

CUO Completes Plan For Christmas Party

To Hold Party For Needy Children In Clendenin Hall December 23rd

Plans for the Christmas party for needy children were completed Wednesday night when the CUO met in Clendenin hall. The party will be held Friday night, Dec. 23, and a two-hour program of entertainment has been arranged.

Santa Claus has sent word he will be at the party with a host of presents for the youngsters. Registration of needy children will continue tonight from six to eight and Friday from four to six p. m. in Clendenin hall.

EIGHTH GRADE CLASS HAS PARTY WEDNESDAY

Abandoning their studies for a little while, the 8-B, Room 224 pupils of Benjamin Franklin Junior high school, had a Christmas party on Wednesday.

They played games and enjoyed a tasty lunch. The pupils took pleasure in presenting a handsome gift to their home room teacher, Miss Hallgren. Guest teachers present included Miss McBride and Walters, and Messrs. McCandless and Roberts.

Quietly Celebrating 68th Wedding Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. W. H. RECK

Today marks celebration of the 68th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Reck of 210 South Walnut street.

Last year the honored couple held open house at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Bessie Dunlap, of 210 South Walnut street, and were very much impressed and overcome with the congratulations received and remembrances brought back to them. This year they decided they would celebrate this occasion in a quiet manner.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Reck are in good health and are quite happy in their married estate. They have received quite a number of congratulatory anniversary cards; also flowers "to the oldest married couple in Lawrence county."

Mr. Reck, 89 next May, is a retired carpenter, and worked at his trade until he was 80 years of age, but still takes care of the repairs of his houses and garages.

Mrs. Reck, 86 in August, is still able to take care of her household duties, with some help from her husband, and everything within that house is "spic and span."

Four Hurt In Atlantic Avenue

Car Has Another Accident After Once Being Overturned On Wednesday

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Ball and Miss Ruth Hays of R. D. 8, and also Joseph Pullion, New Brighton, were injured at 8 p. m. Wednesday in Atlantic avenue near Mahoning avenue, when Pullion's car was reported to have skidded into Ball's auto. All were treated for their injuries in the Jameson Memorial hospital. All sustained bruises and abrasions, it was said by State Motor police.

Pullion reportedly drove south in Atlantic avenue and his car upset. The machine was placed back in operation and he resumed his journey. However, the auto skidded and hit Ball's car near Mahoning avenue, the motor police were told.

the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hartuff of Beaver.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Ruchel of Enon Valley, were recent callers of Mr. and Mrs. Ansell Leonard.

Probe Charges Made By Withers In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 22.—Charges that Pittsburgh heating contractors were enforcing a virtual monopoly in the heating business of Allegheny county, today were being investigated by federal authorities upon the request of PWA officials.

Ernest Withers, head of the Withers Heating Company of New Castle, yesterday charged that his firm was warned to stay out of Allegheny county by Leo A. Green, secretary-treasurer of the United Association of Steam-fitters and Helpers, No. 449.

"We cannot get labor for the plumbing work on the Miller and the Baldwin schools (which are being erected with the aid of PWA funds) because we will not agree to certain unreasonable demands by Leo Green and the voluntary code authority of the heating, piping and air conditioning industry of Allegheny county," Withers complained.

St. Vitus Church Christmas Plans

Program Will Start On Saturday Evening Just Before Midnight

Parishioners of St. Vitus church, corner South Jefferson and Maitland streets, will observe the feast of Christmas with utmost solemnity. The impressive rituals will start promptly at 11:30 o'clock, Saturday evening, the Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, pastor, said today. At the start of services, the interior of the church will be darkened. A large number of girls, attired as angels, and altar boys, carrying candles, will take part in the procession. The group will proceed slowly towards the beautifully arranged crib, singing "Holy Night." Several youngsters of the parish will present Christmas recitals in English and Italian.

At midnight, the Rev. DeMita will sing "Gloria in Excelsis." The newly installed lighting system will be turned on, forming a sight appealing to the eyes. Adding brilliancy to the setting will be the beautifully illuminated crib. A child will then proceed to the crib and place the replica of the infant Jesus into a miniature manger.

Solemn high mass will follow. The Rev. DeMita will serve as celebrant, Rev. Fr. Battenbach, assistant pastor of St. Vitus church, will be deacon; Joseph Mastrangelo, a student at St. Vincent college, Latrobe, Pa., will be sub-deacon, and Richard Paluse, also a student at St. Vincent college, will be master of ceremonies. The Rev. DeMita will deliver the sermon on "The Birth of Christ."

The second mass will be said on Christmas morning at 8 o'clock, followed by the children's mass at 9:30 o'clock. The second high mass will be celebrated at 11 o'clock.

Calendars will be distributed during all masses. Rev. DeMita said. Confessions will be heard on Saturday afternoon, between 3 and 4 o'clock, for sodalities of Little Flowers and Junior Children of Mary, and 4 and 7 o'clock, for adults.

For Christmas services, the South Side church has been arranged most beautifully. Frank Mastrangelo and Angelo Longo have erected a neatly arranged crib on the left wing of the church. The crib is an exact copy of the one in St. Martin's church, Naples, Italy. The crib is among the most attractive in the district. Sisters of St. Vitus church are in charge of the Christmas program which will be presented before the midnight mass.

The St. Vitus church choir, under the direction of B. J. Biondi, will sing a new mass. Mrs. Elizabeth Laslo, will be at the organ.

WILSON ALUMNAE HERE BACK BUILDING DRIVE

Wilson college alumnae in the New Castle district, led by Mrs. O. P. Brown, 211 Moody avenue are being organized these days for their part in the 70th anniversary fund campaign of Wilson college. It is learned. The alumni objective is the erection of a fund out of which may be erected and endowed a student alumnae hall on the Chambersburg, Pa. campus.

Sudden Freeze Ties Up Traffic

Christmas shoppers and just ordinary motorists had the time of their lives Wednesday evening negotiating the hills of the city. A sudden freeze glazed the streets, and the suddenness of it made it impossible to have the hills ashed immediately.

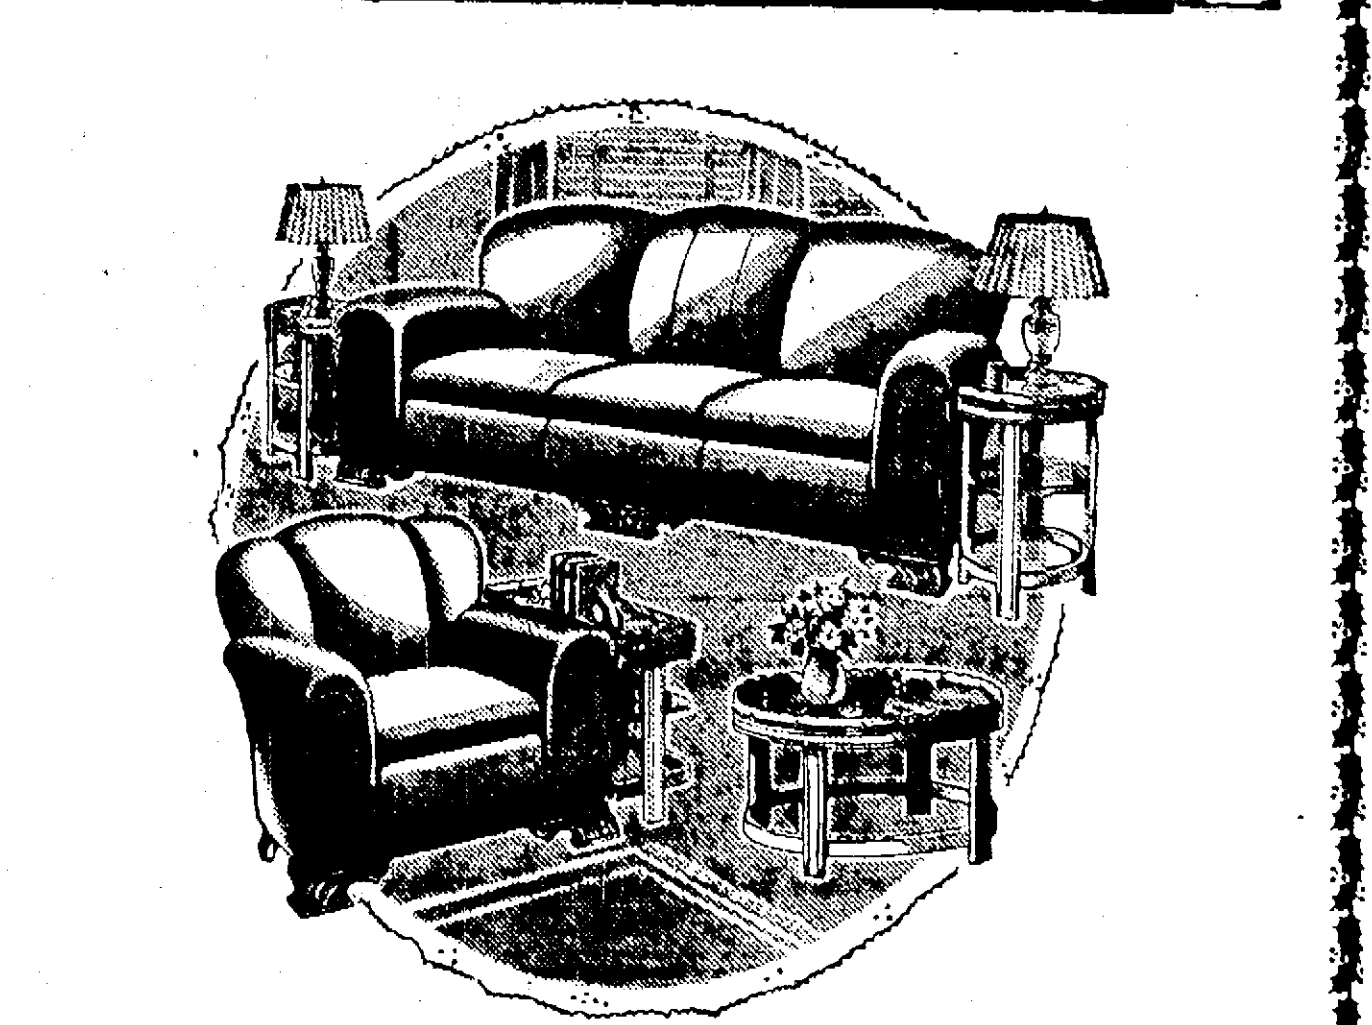

Cars skidded and whirled and stalled on the hill, street cars were delayed with stalled cars on the tracks, and a good time was enjoyed by all.

Confesses To Brutal Murder Of His Wife

William Spinelli Tells Police
How He Killed His Wife
And Burned Pieces of Body

GRUESOME DETAILS UNFOLDED TO POLICE

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 22.—One of the most gruesome murders in Los Angeles history, the dismembering and burning of a 48-year-old woman, has been confessed by her husband, police said today.

They accused William Spinelli, 55, diminutive Italian, of slaying Mrs. Rosa Spinelli, 48, with a hatchet on December 12 and then burning her body, piece by piece, in a small backyard burner.

Spinelli's asserted confession to the crime came after hours of grilling by police who were aided by his son, William Spinelli, Jr., 19. The boy had been convinced his father was guilty and had openly accused him of slaying Mrs. Spinelli.

Finally Confesses
After Spinelli had been shown more bits of evidence pointing to his guilt, police declared, such as charred bones, teeth, bits of dress material and buttons, he went into a faint which was believed to have been a sham.

Opening his eyes as he came out of the "coma" Spinelli muttered:

"I'll tell you everything."
The gist of his asserted confession was that his wife had threatened to leave him for another man, and during a quarrel that followed, she struck him over the head with a hatchet.

"I kicked her," officers quoted him as saying. "She fell to the floor. I grabbed the hatchet and hit her twice over the head with it. That killed her."

"Then I went out and got a sharp saw and saved the body into pieces."

Burned Pieces
"When I figured it was dark enough, I began taking out pieces of Rosa's body and stuffing them into the burner. . . . Billy came home and asked me what I was doing and I told him I was burning some tree branches. He went to bed and when I was sure he was asleep I resumed burning the body. I finished about 10 o'clock that night."

To the asserted confession, the son faced his father in police headquarters and flatly accused him of slaying Mrs. Spinelli.

The little Italian steadfastly denied his son's charge at that time and declared the younger Spinelli himself probably killed her.

Spinelli is a former bootblack. His wife was a maid in a Beverly Hills home.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1938 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Japan, hoping to colonize its new empire with approximately 125,000 persons a year, revives its "picture bride" system to start mass colonization in Manchukuo. Her similar effort to colonize California was blocked about 25 years ago, under the leadership of the then Governor Hiram Johnson, whose various exclusion measures stopped the tide and thereafter made it impossible for Orientals to acquire land in California.

Shiploads of picture brides were so common at San Francisco that they received scant attention by the newspapers. They were an old story. They were indeed an interesting picture story, but disappointing to on-lookers with Occidental ideas of romance.

Each girl brought with her a vanity kit, and the day before landing was given to elaborate preparations for meeting the bridegrooms. Down the gangplank, balanced precariously on their toes, came the frightened girls to meet men they had never seen and to be carried away by them exactly as they had been appropriated in the feudal centuries behind them.

Some of the girls were dumpy and moon-faced. Some were astonishingly pretty in their bright native costume, with the gayly colored "obi" or sash, with the huge bow worn in front to indicate their unmarried state. Their coiffures were skewered and bedecked in ceremonial arrangement, immaculately groomed. Each girl seemed to be stepping out of a Toyokuni print, but there was fear and bewilderment in her eyes—utter submissiveness, too.

The bridegrooms, from youth to middle-aged men and occasionally a grizzled patriarch, were businessmen, potato and rice growers from the Sacramento Valley, with rarely a laborer among them, because importing a bride was costly, and only men of means could afford the luxury. The bridegrooms, too, were "dressed up" but their "store clothes" were ill-fitting and ill-suited to the solemn little sun-baked men, each waiting in line with a picture in his hand—the picture which had been sent to him from Japan so that he could identify his bride.

Almost without exception the men wore bright new, yellow shoes, squeaking like an orchestra tuning up, as they waited uncomfortably in the customs shed. Seeing the grace and beauty of the loose, flowing garments of the girls and the contrasting stiffness and ugliness of the men's clothes, one regretted that Kipling was wrong and wished that East and West never did meet. When they do, they are apt to pick the worst of the other civilization.

Dead Pan Jimmy Savo is a riot of abandoned facial expression compared to a Japanese picking his bride. No glint of a smile, no eager light in the eye, no tenderness, no happy approval of the girl's exquisite grooming, no playful badinage, not even the warmth and glow of possessiveness. Just a close squint at the picture, another narrow-eyed squint at the girl, a few sharp words completing the identification and then the girl hobbled away after her master.

Almost without fail, the frightened little bride was taken to the largest department store in San Francisco. There she put aside, perhaps forever, the lovely garments of her wedding dowry and was dressed anew in whatever extreme of stiffness and discomfort the fashion of the day decreed for American women, including the tightest of corsets and the tightest shoes.

The bridegroom selected all the clothes, with not a word from the girl during the entire proceedings. Invariably he insisted on shoes with the highest heels in the store. The most grudgingly bedecked hat was a certain choice. The final process was a rearrangement of the girl's hair in the most extreme style of the moment. Occasionally the groom would have with him an American fashion magazine, to supplement his scant English as he pointed to a picture and demanded something "all same like this."

The unhappy child bride, most of them were 16 or younger, walked on her high heels as if she were walking on stilts, and almost had to be carried from the store. But at last there was a smile of happy possessiveness on the face of the bridegroom. He knew what he wanted, and here it was. She remained silent and bewildered.

How absurd to the Japanese, and how unreal, must be little Cho-Cho San of Puccini's romantic devising, in "Madam Butterfly".

In Torture Probe

Pictured in his hospital bed at Winston-Salem, N. C., is Dallas Barr, 18, reported in danger of losing both feet from gangrene. Barr charges he was kept in unheated, unlighted cell six days, during which he was fed one piece of bread and one cup of water. He was serving four months for larceny. Charges of torture are under investigation. (Central Press)

Says Vegetables
More Nutritious
When Steamed

(International News Service)
BERKELEY, Cal.—Further evidence to show that stored vegetables retain more of their nutrient elements when they are steamed than when they are boiled, was reported today by the University of California agricultural experiment station.

Harriet Morgan Flyer, assistant professor, and J. T. Manchessan, former analyst at the experiment station, reported their experiments with peas and asparagus showed that peas and asparagus harvested and stored under suitable temperature and humidity conditions for more than 48 hours, retain more of their mineral constituents when cooked either by boiling or steaming than when cooked immediately after harvesting.

Plaingrove Church Is Planning Pageant
Presbyterians Plan Christmas Features For Both Services Sunday

A special program has been planned for Sunday evening, December 25, at 8 o'clock, in the Plaingrove Presbyterian church.

A pageant, "The Christmas Road," will be presented. The choir will furnish special music and the junior class will have a caroling service.

The primary classes will give their program Sunday morning at 10:00 o'clock, followed by the regular church service.

Nature knows best. The smartest wild creature is the coon, and the mother spansks her young in the usual way.

Afternoon Program At Highland Church

Combined Choirs Will Sing At 4 O'Clock On Afternoon Of Christmas

Robert A. Duff is directing a program of music in Highland U. P. church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, which the combined choir of 75 vested singers will participate. Miss Betty Reed will be leader and Mrs. Jay L. Reed will play the organ accompaniment.

The junior choir and the girls choir are directed by Mrs. Glenn McCracken and Mrs. Reed, respectively, and will appear in the program along with the adult choir, directed by Mr. Duff.

An organ prelude will be heard at 3:45 p. m. in which three numbers, "On the Road to Bethlehem," "Mailing," "Jesus Brought," "Yon and Noel," will be heard. The complete program follows:

Processional—"O Come All Ye Faithful."
"Silent Night"—Combined chorus.
Invocation.
"The Prophecy," Isaiah 40:1-11; 52:7-10—The Reader.
"How Beautiful Upon the Mountains," Harker—"The girl's choir."
"The Annunciation," Luke 1:26-33, 46-47—The Reader.

"The Magnificat," Hawley—Soprano solo, Dorothy Gormley Smith.
"The Approach to Bethlehem," Luke 2:1-5—The Reader.
"The Little Town of Bethlehem," Reader—"The Junior choir."
"The Birth," Luke 2:6-7.
"The Birthday of a King," Neidlinger—"The adult choir, Mrs. June Bernard, soloist."

"Away in a Manger," Spillman—"The Junior choir."
"Lullaby, Thou Little Tiny Child"—The girl's choir.
"The Annunciation to the Shepherds," Luke 2:8-14—The Reader.
"The First Noel," Traditional—"The Junior choir."

"Shepherds in Their Fields Abiding"—The girl's choir.
"O Holy Night," Adam—"The adult choir, Dorothy Gormley Smith, soloist."
"The Visit of the Wise Men," Matthew 2:1-2, 8-11—The Reader.
"We Three Kings of Orient Are," Hopkins—"The adult choir."

Offertory, "Largo," Handel—Joseph Vogan, piano; Mrs. J. L. Reed, organ.
"The Appeal of the Christ," Luke 9:57-57—"The Reader."
"O Come to My Heart, Lord Jesus," Ambrose—"The adult choir, D. L. Ferguson, soloist."

Benediction, followed by "Silent Night."
Postlude, "Hallelujah Chorus," from "Messiah," Handel.

Court Ruling May Decide Control Of State Senate

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Dec. 22.—Each desperately seeking control of the state senate, Pennsylvania's two major political parties today awaited a Dauphin county court ruling upon which hinged probable control of the upper chamber.

Argument was completed yesterday afternoon on the petition of Samuel W. Salus, veteran GOP legislator from Philadelphia, defeated in the general election by 47 votes by Herbert S. Levin, asking that Levin be prevented from taking his seat January 3.

The senate vote, pending disposal of the Salus case, apparently was a 50-50 split between Democrats and Republicans. The Democrats, however, if they can hold their present voting power, can control the selection of a president pro tempore and determine the complexion of important committees by virtue of the deciding vote held by Lieut.-Gov. Thomas Kennedy, who votes only in case of ties.

Each party claims 25 votes, with the Republicans buttressed by the pledged support of Sen. Weldon B. Heyburn, Delaware Independent elected as a Democrat.

Maj. Lemuel B. Schofield, counsel for Levin, won a victory when he successfully opposed the taking of testimony from witnesses produced by Salus in support of his charge that Levin was elected through bribery, fraud and wilful violation of the election laws.

The court ruled it could not take testimony because the election contest suit was properly heard in Philadelphia. The issue, the court said, resolved itself into purely one of jurisdiction—whether the court has the right to enjoin Levin from taking his seat.

Schofield vigorously argued that a ruling by the court—denying Levin his seat—would create a "dangerous precedent." He charged that if every defeated senatorial candidate sought an injunction against the victor the court would be in the position of holding up the entire legislative session.

Two other repercussions of the "finish fight" for control of the senate were felt in the capitol yesterday. They were:

1. Former Delaware County Chairman Anthony P. Barrett, a member of the Pennsylvania Securities Commission, bitterly attacked Heyburn's switch to the GOP and appealed to Heyburn to support the Democrats "through the sense of duty and loyalty to the party that gave him his opportunity."
2. Sen. Anthony Cavalcante, fiery Fayette Democrat who opposed the administration on numerous occasions during the special session, declared he was "undecided" on how he would vote on reorganization. Cavalcante, mentioned previously as Democratic floor leader, was understood to have resented the choice of Philadelphia's Sen. Harry Shapiro in his stead.

Honor Cosel At Dinner Event

Thirty-Six Bright Silver Dollars Are Presented To Retiring Elks Secretary

JACOB COSEL

Thirty-six bright silver dollars, one for every year he has served the lodge, were presented last night to Jacob Cosel by his fellow officers of New Castle Elks lodge and by members of the lodge's Past Exalted Rulers' Association.

Cosel, retiring as lodge secretary December 31, was guest of honor at a dinner given by the lodge group in the Elks' home. For 36 years he has served in some lodge office.

The 36 dollar pieces were presented in behalf of the group by Harry Alexander, president of the Past Exalted Rulers' Association. Present for the affair was one of Mr. Cosel's sons, William L. Cosel, of this city.

Attending with Mr. Alexander were the following former exalted rulers:

News Briefs From City Hall

Street department employees were kept busy until almost midnight last night ashing paved hills in the city. It costs the city approximately $2,000 a year to provide this service.

Auto of John Whitten, Wallace avenue, stolen recently, was found in an East Side parking lot. The car of Irving Long, R. D. 5, reported stolen, was in possession of his brother, police report.

A woman who gave the name of Nettie McQuade, West Pittsburg, was reported to have stepped into the path of a car operated by C. V. Rice, Sampson street, Wednesday afternoon. She was struck by a fender. She was not hurt, the report stated.

WEDNESDAY QUILTING CLUB
Members of the Wednesday Quilting club had an all day meeting with Mrs. David Drumm, Superior street, on Wednesday. At noon covers were laid for ten and a delicious dinner was served. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Maude Montgomery.
Afternoon hours were spent in playing bingo, prizes falling to Mrs. Alice White and Mrs. Fred Kenahan. Gifts were exchanged.
The next meeting will be January 18 in a downtown tea room.

Late Hours May Bring Mail Rush

Morning At Post Office Sees Fair Crowd; Open Until 8 P. M.

Most of the post office service windows will be kept open until 8 tonight, Postmaster Richard A. Steen said today. The parcel post, stamp and other windows will be open, although the money order windows will close at their customary time.

"We had a fair crowd of mailers last night," the postmaster reported. "Today, in all probability, won't be as big as mailing day as Wednesday, but we'll be prepared to handle a rush if it comes tonight."

Last night was the first evening the post office remained open late. Superintendent of Mails David B. Thomas reported to Steen today that Wednesday's mail cancellations numbered 136,000. It was regarded by officials as "a very good day."

Mailers were urged to "get their mail in quickly." The postmaster said the office will observe Monday, December 26 as the Christmas holiday.

Dr. Dafeo's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1938, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

HOW THE QUINTS WERE CURED OF SUCKING THEIR THUMBS

Yesterday I warned mothers against getting too excited or upset because the baby persists in sucking its thumb. Every infant born indulges in thumb-sucking to some degree. There isn't anything sinister about it. Along with other things, it is just a method of child action. You know the baby's first real instinct or habit is the habit of sucking. And baby's first playthings are the parts of its own body. That is why the thumb seems to find its way so naturally to the mouth.

The mother shouldn't get too upset about this thing; she should take it as a matter of course. It just shows that the child is seeking its own interests. Like all other baby habits, providing that the infant is treated wisely, other ideas develop, and the child finds other means of satisfaction and expression.

Usually the desire to suck the thumb wanes at six months, and by the time the child passes its first birthday, it will have stopped—that is, if the mother hasn't overemphasized the habit too much in her efforts to make the child stop. You may stop the habit by the use of apparatus, but the danger is that the child will resent such methods.

Besides it is wrong, I think, to dam up a child's energies by such restraint. The wise parent will change this habit by giving the child something else to do that will take its attention. We all know the impulse we have to go ahead and do something, have just been told not to do.

Of course we had this problem of thumb-sucking with the Quints. However, we avoided letting them see that we were trying to break them of the habit. As a matter of fact, they did it occasionally until they were three. Even now, if excited or taken by surprise, we see a thumb going automatically into a mouth.

No, we didn't try to break them of the habit. What we did, though, was to try to see that they were kept busy doing something all the time they were awake. Their routine is well arranged and they have plenty of play equipment. There are no long periods, when they are doing nothing. When their sleep periods come along, they are tired enough to take advantage of them. Naturally our routine is not rigid but it would surprise you just how little it varies from day to day.

Our nurses have had to use other methods from time to time. If they see a child sucking its thumb, or doing anything else it shouldn't be doing, they call attention to something else—to a picture, a new game, a bird, anything to distract the child's attention.

Sometimes this thumb-sucking appears during a story period. You know that example is contagious, and we have five children together to look after. But the nurses have learned how to distract their attention and get them to do something that puts an end to the thumb-sucking, for the time being, anyway.

Just another word to mothers: If baby begins to fall asleep with its thumb in its mouth, don't disturb him. Wait until he is asleep and then remove the thumb. If you waken him to take the thumb out, he is likely to stay awake and think over the thing to which you have drawn his attention.

Mr. Fred L. Rentz
Dear Mr. Rentz:

The New Castle Exchange Club, at its meeting last evening, by resolution, expressed appreciation for the hearty cooperation rendered by your paper in connection with the recent Milk Fund Benefit Boxing Show.

The club realizes that considerable of the time of your Mr. Eddie Fritz was devoted to the making of this affair, the successful event it was. For your courtesy in relinquishing this time the club is also grateful.

Yours very truly,

Kiwanians, Guests Hear 'Belvederes'

Male Quartet Entertains Club
At Luncheon; Coulter
Plays

One of New Castle's most popular vocal groups, the Belvedere Male quartet, sang for Kiwanis club members and guests at their weekly luncheon in The Castleton yesterday. The entire program was devoted to music.

The Belvederes—with Clifford H. Young, first tenor; David W. Rees, second tenor; Fred C. Scheppelle, baritone, and Leonard W. Kisthart, bass, sang three numbers, "Elegy," "Garry Me Back to Old Virginia," and "Come All Ye Faithful." The numbers won generous applause.

Judy Sypher was the quartet's piano accompanist.

Charles Coulter, gifted baritone horn player who has won for himself honors in state and national competition, also played during the program. Coulter was accompanied by Miss Jean Wright.

The club, with Music Chairman Chester P. Reynolds directing, sang Christmas carols, and enjoyed impromptu contributions of a "medical quartet" composed of Dr. David Perry, Dr. Homer E. Allen, Dr. Paris A. Shoff and J. Lumen Popp. A dentist, Dr. A. G. Reynolds, led it. All are Kiwanians.

President J. Orville Potter presided over a brief business discussion.

Hi-Y Clubs Active As Holiday Nears

New Mahoning School Club
Organizes Tonight; Events
Varied

The Hi-Y clubs of the Young Men's Christian Association, preparing now for the holiday season, are making the most of the hours remaining before school closes.

The new Mahoning school Hi-Y group, with its faculty advisor, George Bauman, will organize Thursday night. Meeting at the "Y" in separate session tonight, will be the Shenango Township high school club and the Ben Franklin Junior high group.

Membership drives were successfully conducted by the George Washington, Sophomore Class and Junior class clubs during the past few weeks. Results exceeded expectations of leaders.

A Hi-Y basketball tournament, for all the clubs, will be held in the "Y" Wednesday, December 28.

Assistant General Secretary Henry T. MacNicholas said the next Gra-Y group meeting will be held in the "Y" January 6. Clubs of the junior division will hold their regular meetings that evening.

New Castle High Will Open Floor Games Here Friday

Farrell High, Northwestern Champs In 1937-38, Will Help Locals With Inaugural

Will Use Arena Floor; First Game At 7:15 o'clock; Hope For Victory

New Castle high school basketball team will open its 1938-39 home basketball schedule at the arena floor on Friday night, meeting the strong Farrell high quintet, champions of the Northwestern Pennsylvania district last year.

The preliminary game between the High Reserves and Senior A quintet will start at 7:15 o'clock.

The locals will use the big arena court for the first time. Coach Phil Bridenbaugh has held several workouts at the new floor and likes it.

The starting lineup for New Castle will no doubt find Greer and Gennock at the forwards, Bombyk at center, and Adams and Lauer at the guards, or Adams may be used at center and Wanda used at guard.

Farrell Strong

Farrell high will bring a team of three veterans from last year here. Captain Joe Katakowski, a great ball handler, and lanky Henry Thomas, the all-state center of last year, and Walter Blüchke.

New Castle hopes to atone for the setback at Sharon last Tuesday by handing the Farrell boys a neat little surprise here tomorrow evening.

The locals are not a veteran outfit this season, but show much promise of developing into a clever machine in a few more games.

The Farrell High team coached by Tudor Lewis, former well known Westminster guard, will be one of the best to appear here on the 1938-39 card. It will be the same flashy Slinger team that won the district title so handsily last year and then lost a heart-breaker to Ford City in the Pitt Stadium by a lone point.

Same Prices As Last Year

The prices for the games this year will be the same as last year, with student tickets for 15 cents, general admission at 25 cents, and reserved seats at 35 cents. Season reserved tickets are also being sold for the price of $2.80 for the nine home games.

Strong teams that will show here this year will include Ford City, Farrell, Erie Academy, Beaver Falls, Atiquippa, Ellwood City, Butler, New Brighton and Ambridge.

Two arch rivals, St. George Greek Orthodox and A. Z. A. basketball teams, battle on Sunday afternoon in the Arena. The tussle, starting at 2:15 o'clock, will be a preliminary to the Booster-Pittsburgh game.

MERCHANT RES. BOOKING

The New Castle Merchant Reserves will book games with all class B teams in the city and county. For games call 1200-R and ask for Bob. The Merchant Reserves will play the Polish Eagles at the K. Pulaski hall tonight at 9:45 o'clock. All players are meet at the church at 6 o'clock.

Boosters Battle Pittsburgh Five Sunday Afternoon

Local Quintet Hopes To Annex Fifth Consecutive Basketball Triumph

One of Pittsburgh's outstanding basketball combinations, the Pittsburgh Ferris Club, invades the city Sunday afternoon to battle the New Castle Boosters, on The Arena court at 3:15 o'clock.

Coach Fraser sent his squad thru its second workout of the week Wednesday evening, in preparation for the coming tilt. The local eagles have shown marked improvement in every game. After dropping their first two games, to Youngstown and Duquesne University, the Boosters bounced back with impressive triumphs over the crack Irwin cagers, Ellwood City, Westminster college and last Sunday a 53-12 decision over Ambridge. A victory over the Smokey City club will hoist the standing of the local club in district competition.

The Ferris club is comprised of an array of crack ex-high and ex-collegiate players. The visitors are competing in one of the toughest basketball communities in the district and rank highly. The game should be one of the most exciting of the season.

Tony Tino, business manager, has booked a number of top-notch attractions for January, February and March.

Pirates Schedule
San Diego Team

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 22.—The Pittsburgh Pirates will open the 1939 spring training series against San Diego, Cal., March 17, Bill Ben-swanger, Pirate pitcher, announced today. The game will be played in San Diego.

Ben-swanger also announced the Bucs will play in El Paso, Tex., during the series. Seven or eight more games will be added to the present schedule shortly, he said.

THREE GAMES AT PULASKI FLOOR ON CARD TONIGHT

There will be three basketball games at the K. Pulaski floor tonight, it was announced by Lefty Maslyk. The first game will start at 6:45 o'clock and will find the Polish Eagles meeting the New Castle Merchants Reserves, the second game will send the K. Pulaski Reserves into action with the Buckeye, A. C. Reserves and lastly the K. Pulaski Big Five meets the Buckeye A. C. five of Niles, Ohio.

YOUNGSTOWN HERE FOR SHOOT FRIDAY

Friday night at the Cathedral range the New Castle Rifle club will have a Penn.-Ohio league shoot with the strong Youngstown Mahoning Rifle team. The match starts at 7:30 o'clock.

Last Monday night at the Cathedral range the New Castle team, with Thomas shooting a 193 string to lead his team, topped Ellwood City 944 to 925. The locals are in second place in the league.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Despite the fact that he is one of the smallest basketball players in the city, Elmer "Zeke" Wainio, a member of the New Castle Boosters team, is regarded as one of the best shots in the city. Anytime "Zeke" gets a set shot, it's almost a cinch that he'll sink a field goal. His rare to find Elmer "goose-egged" in a game. He has been noted for his basketball ability for many years. So far, the diminutive athlete, a brother of lanky Francis Wainio, has accounted for close to 20 markers.

John Cabas, a former New Castle high athlete, is one of two men being groomed for a forward position on the Mount Union starting five. Cabas, who sparkled at No-Ca-Hi, is a giving veteran Gordon Scott, a real battle for a forward berth on the Purple quintet. His high-speed activities on the hardwood have given him an edge in recent games. Cabas is one of Coach Wright's six returning lettermen and one of the men about whom Wright is attempting to build another state championship combination.

Keystones Only Undeclared Team In Basketball Loop

Lead City League And Are Hot After First-Half Championship

The Keystone A. C. Basketball team is the only team undefeated in the City Basketball league today. The Keys have won four and have yet to be upset. The next teams in line are the N. Y. A. and Gersons.

Franklyn Crisel president of the league, has intimated that the first half will end on January 1, New Year's day and that a new schedule for the league will be drawn up including the two new teams in the league—Lockleys and New Castle Merchants.

Following is the standing of the City League at the present time:

Team	W. L. Pct.
Keystone A. C.	4 0 1.000
N. Y. A.	3 1 .728

GERSONS TO PLAY ELLWOOD QUINTET

The Gersons will play the fast Italo Balboa team of Ellwood City at the Polish Falcon hall tonight at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced by Manager Walter Perch.

Coach Mike Kulich will have his strongest possible lineup ready to meet the Ellwoodians. Friday night at the arena floor the Gersons will meet the Len's in a City league game at 6 o'clock. The game Sunday with the N.Y.A. (Christmas Day) has been postponed.

LOCKLEYS-INDIES WILL PLAY GAME

Lovers of football will have a Christmas Day football game at Lockley Field, it was revealed today by R. M. Young, manager of the "Locks". The Indies will provide the Lockleys with competition on that day.

The game will start at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Favor Trojans To Beat Duke In Bowl Game

Knocking Off Notre Dame Makes Southern California Favorites In Classic

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Explaining everything with the simple and succinct statement that Southern California was coming along fast at the finish of the season and Duke didn't play enough tough games, the headquarters of Broadway Jack Doyle, the betting commissioner, today announced that the California eleven has been established as a 5 to 14 favorite over the Blue Devils for the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena January 2.

Considering that the far western eleven lost to Alabama and Washington, and actually finished in a deadlock for the coast conference championship, while Duke was marching resolutely through an undefeated and unscathed season, those odds seem to make little sense. But here is another dash of the same, on other major bowl games, according to these latest quotations:

Sugar Bowl, New Orleans—Texas Christian 5 to 14 over Carnegie Tech. Orange Bowl, Miami—Tennessee 1 to 3 over Oklahoma. Cotton Bowl, Dallas—St. Marys 2 to 5 over Texas Tech.

Getting back to the Rose Bowl classic, everything seems to be based on the fact that Southern California knocked off Notre Dame in its last game. The truth of it all is that Duke should be favored on the premise that a team which hasn't been beaten probably will not be.

TWO GAMES AT FALCON COURT

There will be two basketball games tonight at the Polish Falcon court, the first game at 7:30 o'clock will have the Gersons meeting the Ellwood City Balboa team, and the main game will send the Polish Falcons into action with the Columbiana A. C., champs of their district last year.

ALARM SET OFF

(International News Service)

PARIS.—The chilling note of an air raid alarm accidentally set off by a short circuit set all Paris on edge during the war crisis. The alarm, located on the roof of a church in the Paris Bourse quarter, blew for three minutes while traffic jammed up in the streets and anxious Parisiens rushed from cafes and houses to glance fearfully skyward for a sight of enemy aircraft. The air-raid sirens normally are tested each Wednesday.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL.
This being the first official day of winter we thought it wise to say a few words about our feather friends... the most touching sight we have seen in months was the other day we witnessed a family... in very poor circumstances... with four children... and they were all saving the crumbs from their simple meal... and the birds would have an easier time in finding a little to eat. Folks like that, will someday be rewarded with great riches. So give a little thought to other things in this world beside your own life.

FEEDING THE BIRDS IN WINTERTIME is an Humane Act

Stock Market Is Irregular

Trading Moderately Active In Market Today; Rubber Shares Firm Up

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The stock market developed further irregularity after yesterday's decline. Trading was moderately active.

An unsettling influence was a further fall in the aviation shares, running to more than 2 points in Douglas. This was partially offset by strength in the rails. The rest of the market was without uniform trend, with minus and plus signs about equal.

Most steel shares suffered slight losses after a steady start but pressure was light. The auto shares displayed a firm undertone. General Motors edged forward fractionally.

Railroad shares were led upward by Illinois Central, which hit a new high. C. & O. and Union Pacific were backward exceptions. An influence was the good November earnings showing of the first roads to report for the month. Hope of legislative aid from Congress also was a factor.

Utilities lost gain and losses being about evenly divided. Westinghouse lost over a point in a heavy market for electrical equipments. Building shares on the other hand improved, with Johns-Manville up over a point at one time. American Telephone was a point higher as Western Union sagged.

The rubber shares firmed up but most coppers lost ground. Mail orders and chemicals were irregular.

Hot Finish Beats Office To Keep Slate Undeclared

Fast, Exciting Game Ends 40-39; Cold Draw Tops Balbos 32-29

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 22.—In a desperate battle that was nip and tuck all the way the Hot Finish maintained their undefeated status in the Shelby basketball league last evening by nailing out their greatest rivals, the Office, 40 to 39, in a free scoring game that provided plenty of action for the spectators.

The Office led at the half 21-18 and a rally staged in the third quarter by the little defenders provided their victory edge. Late in the fourth quarter Robuck sank a long shot, making the score 40-33. Zapadka, who was outstanding for the Office, added two field goals, bringing their score to 37 and then Shirley found the hoops for a side shot and the game ended.

A last minute spurt in which they scored 11 points in rapid succession failed to save the Italo-Balbos who once again bowed and this time to the Cold Draw by a score of 32-29. Barnes, who played his first game of the season, paced the winners with 11 points.

A dance will follow the Saturday night games.

Memorial Church Children's Party

Merry Party Attended By 111 Sunday School Pupils Wednesday Afternoon

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 22.—The Bell Memorial Presbyterian church Sunday school room was the scene of joyous and merry gatherings on Wednesday afternoon and evening when children of the primary departments were entertained at the annual Yuletide party.

Division one, including the classes of Mrs. Frank Iseman, Mrs. Letitia McClintock, Mrs. Sadie Kirkwood, Miss Myrtle Kingston, Mrs. Julia Buquo, Mrs. Triny Houk and Louis Ifft were guests from 4 until 5:30 P. m.

Division two included the classes of Harry Donaldson, Miss Caroline Majors, Earl Marshall and Miss Esther James. The program for both groups was the same and included carol singing and an effective dramatization of the Bethlehem story by Rev. Joseph E. Pringle with Miss Myrtle Kingston playing the role of Mary. Amusing games followed after which Santa Claus arrived and presented each guest with a gift from the pack. Refreshments were served as the concluding feature. One hundred and eleven children attended the most successful affair.

Mrs. James Marshall, primary superintendent, was in charge of the many arrangements and thanks the many mothers who aided in preparing and serving the refreshments.

Association Board To Be Entertained By Local Firemen

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 22.—On Saturday, January 21, the local firemen will be hosts to the board of control of the Western Pennsylvania Firemen's association in the firemen's hall on Sixth street. About 300 members representing 34 counties are expected to attend.

Arrangements for this meeting were made on Tuesday when the local executive committee held their semi-monthly meeting.

Nina Kay Griffiths Has Birthday Party

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 22.—Nina Kay Griffiths was agreeably surprised on Wednesday afternoon when her mother, Mrs. Robert Griffiths, entertained a circle of her little friends and playmates at a merry party at their home, in Wurttemberg Heights, honoring her ninth birthday anniversary.

The hours from 4 until 6 were given over to a variety of entertaining diversions with Pauline Ketterer and Patricia Rapp winning contest prizes.

As the concluding feature, the hostess assisted by her mother, Mrs. Harvey Wright, served the guests a dainty lunch. A nicely decorated birthday cake featured the refreshment hour.

Our Bridge Club Has Dinner Event

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 22.—Beautifully appointed was a 6 o'clock dinner held last evening by Mrs. Earl Scheidehand for members of Our Bridge Club at her home, in Todd avenue.

After partaking of the delectable dinner, a brief meeting was held during which a name for the club was selected and the following officers chosen for the new year: President, Mrs. Ebbie Young; and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. R. R. Reed.

Mrs. Dal Turner and Mrs. George Peers shared as special guests.

The evening was devoted to playing bridge at 3 tables with the top score awards going to Mrs. A. J. Dambach and Mrs. Reed, who will be hostess for the next meeting on Wednesday, January 4, at her home, in Todd avenue.

HOSPITAL NOTES

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 22.—Admitted: Adam Gib, Burnstown; Jesse McClelland, Zelienople; Discharged: Mrs. Kellner, Crescent avenue.

Clarks Injured In Car Collision

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clark and daughter, Joan, North Sewickley, were injured at 3 p. m. Wednesday when an auto driven by Clark and a truck operated by A. R. Wright, Harmony, R. D. collided while going in opposite directions on Route 288, near Ellwood City, according to state motor police.

Clark sustained cuts about his face. Mrs. Clark received a fracture of the wrist and lacerations, and Joan also suffered cuts.

The injured were attended by a physician in Ellwood City.

Birthday Party At Daufen Home

Lilyville Lutheran Missionary Society Has Delightful Affair

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 22.—A most delightful Yuletide party was held last evening by members of the Women's Missionary society of the St. Mark's Lutheran church of Lilyville at the home of Mrs. Edward Daufen, of the Ellwood-Zelienople road. Husbands of members were guests and Mr. and Mrs. John Nagel, of Beaver, were special guests.

A brief devotional period was led by Rev. W. E. Mitchell. The affair was also in the form of a birthday party for Mrs. Frank Smith and a surprise birthday event for Rev. Mitchell and they each were presented with an array of most attractive gifts. During the evening, Santa Claus visited the group and presented everyone with a nice gift.

Singing occupied the hours, with the hostess being aided in serving a delicious lunch by Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Adam Varner and Mrs. Nagel to the 25 guests. Nicely decorated birthday cakes featured this period.

O. N. O. Club Party Held At Zelienople

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 22.—A pleasant Christmas party was held last evening by members of the O. N. O. club at a Zelienople hotel with Mrs. Ray Patterson and Miss Honey White sharing as special guests.

Mrs. Donaldson Injured In Fall

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 22.—The many friends of Mrs. Harry Donaldson of Hazel avenue will be sorry to learn that she is in a serious condition in the local hospital suffering from fractures of both arms and possible internal injuries.

Arising early Wednesday morning to care for Mr. Donaldson, who has been in a serious condition for the past two weeks suffering from injuries sustained in an automobile accident at Grove City, Mrs. Donaldson in some manner missed her footing and fell down the stairs. Mr. Donaldson had only been removed from the hospital on Tuesday. After regaining consciousness, she managed to reach the telephone where she called neighbors, who immediately rushed her to the local hospital, where she was given treatment.

Society Honors Pastor And Wife

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 22.—Rev. and Mrs. Milton A. May were delightfully surprised on Wednesday when members of the Ladies Aid society of the Immanuel Reformed church gathered at the parsonage, in Eighth street, in "surprise fashion," for an evening of merriment.

Games and contests were enjoyed and during the evening, the honor guests were presented with a beautiful lace tablecloth from the society.

Dainty refreshments were served as the concluding feature by Mrs. P. D. Powell and Miss Carrie Reinheimer.

Mrs. Irene Faust Entertains Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 22.—Mrs. Irene Faust was a charming hostess to members of the Neighborhood club on Tuesday afternoon at her home in North Sewickley, at a lovely Christmas party.

For winning top score in bridge, Mrs. Melvin Waterson and Mrs. Pearl Smith were presented nice prizes. Gifts were exchanged.

Mrs. Eileen Miller aided the hostess in serving a tempting repast.

For the next meeting on Wednesday, January 11, Mrs. Hazel Elliott will be hostess at her home in North Sewickley.

Lutheran Class To Give Gifts To Orphan's Home

Mrs. Samuel Mullen Elected President Of King's Messenger Class

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 22.—Members of the King's Messenger class of the Trinity Lutheran church held a most enjoyable Christmas party last evening at the home of Mrs. Dan Stamm, of the Ellwood-Zelienople road, with Mrs. John Horvath and Mrs. Howard Stauffer as co-hostesses.

Twenty members and three guests, Miss Margaret Ely, Mrs. Lewis Beisecker and Mrs. Hilmar Beisecker, participated.

Mrs. F. Melzer led the opening devotional period and during a business period the following officers were chosen: President, Mrs. Samuel Mullen, vice president, Mrs. John Horvath; secretary, Mrs. C. S. Waterson and assistant, Mrs. Lee Whitman.

Games and contests followed with nice awards being won by Mrs. Mullen and Mrs. Whitman.

Each member brought a gift and during the evening they were prepared for delivery to the Orphan's home at Zelienople for Christmas.

Theodore Duncan Chosen Commander Of Union Veterans

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 22.—Two applications for membership into the Sons of Union Veterans organization were received last evening when members gathered in the Fourth street V. F. W. hall, for an important meeting.

During the evening the following officers were elected to serve for the new year: Commander, Theodore Duncan; Senior Vice commander, Carl Stevens; Junior Vice commander, Chester Smith; treasurer, W. J. McElhaney; and camp counsel, W. G. Duncan. Other officers will be appointed by the new Commander.

Mrs. Donaldson Injured In Fall

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 22.—The many friends of Mrs. Harry Donaldson of Hazel avenue will be sorry to learn that she is in a serious condition in the local hospital suffering from fractures of both arms and possible internal injuries.

Arising early Wednesday morning to care for Mr. Donaldson, who has been in a serious condition for the past two weeks suffering from injuries sustained in an automobile accident at Grove City, Mrs. Donaldson in some manner missed her footing and fell down the stairs. Mr. Donaldson had only been removed from the hospital on Tuesday. After regaining consciousness, she managed to reach the telephone where she called neighbors, who immediately rushed her to the local hospital, where she was given treatment.

Lester Pander Has Affair For Class

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 22.—Lester Pander pleasantly entertained members of his Sunday school class of the Wurttemberg U. P. church at a delightful Christmas party on Tuesday evening at his home in Wurttemberg.

Seventeen members participated in the enjoyable diversions of the evening with nice awards being won by John Junior Caughey, Donald Whitman and Jack Friday. Attractive gifts were exchanged as an added feature.

At an appropriate hour Mrs. Pander was assisted in serving a colorfully appointed repast by her sister, Miss Ruth Badger.

Correct this sentence: "I can have affairs with other women" said the man "without being untrue to my wife."

Annual Party Of Providence Guild

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 22.—On Wednesday evening, members of the World Wide Guild of the Providence Baptist church of North Sewickley gathered at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Routledge of North Sewickley for their annual Yuletide party.

Forty members and guests participated in the activities of the evening which began with the presentation of the study, "The Story of the Prophets" by Miss Elizabeth Cramer.

White cross work occupied the remainder of the evening with nice gifts being drawn in a clever manner.

Seasonable refreshments were served by Misses Sarah Keul, Doris Cable and Margaret Koach, after which the members departed to meet again on Monday evening, January 8, at the home of Mrs. Keith Hazen of Knox, with Miss Hazel Stevenson as co-hostess.

Christmas Seal Sale Nears End

Splendid Response Is Reported By Officers Of Tuberculosis Society

Officers of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society, which annually sponsors the sale of Christmas Seals as a means of raising funds to combat the ravages of tuberculosis, stated today that the seal sale this year is proving one of the best in recent years.

The sale will come to a close at Christmas time, which leaves only a few more days which local people will have to buy these seals and use them. The society is particularly interested in seeing that those who buy the seals use them on the mail they send out, thus spreading their value.

Folks who wish to buy additional seals can procure them at the headquarters of the society, Room 219, Lawrence Savings and Trust Building.

Extra Holiday Feed For Birds

Wild life in city parks will have extra portions of food this Christmas according to City Forester Owen Fox.

He said today that he proposes to scatter plenty of feed in the different places.

For the insect-eating birds he will place suet. This, he explained, keeps the birds warm.

Bread, apples, and corn will be also scattered in the parks.

He said he now has some Hungarian quail in Gaston park. There are also quite a number of squirrels and pheasants there.

Skunks and coons have gone to sleep for the winter he stated.

'Story Of Christmas' Planned For Sunday

Annual Observance By First Presbyterian Church On Sunday Evening

ROBERT TOPPING

Christmas will be observed again this year in the First Presbyterian Church in dramatic fashion. Through the medium of song, narration and stage setting the beauty of the Christmas will be presented in a festival that includes in its scope the life of Christ and the events leading up to it.

Beginning with the early prophecies on down through the birth, the ministry and crucifixion, the story will unfold the various phases of the Saviour's life.

For the musical end of the program an unusual treat has been prepared. Robert Topping, famous young dramatic tenor whose star is rising higher every week, will be the soloist. Mr. Topping is a Pittsburgh man, American trained and in Radio City and in opera auditions he has been a delight.

With him will be a quartet of Pittsburgh church soloists, every one able. In the quartet will be Thomas Murdoch, 1st tenor; Vincent Kroen, 2nd tenor; Cass Ward Whitney, baritone and Raymond Griffin, basso.

The services will open at eight o'clock and remembering the beauty of last year's service, one can expect something equally as good this year.

Peoples Drug Co. Employees To Get Salary Dividend

The directors of Peoples Drug Stores, Inc., have authorized the payment of a salary dividend to approximately 2000 of its employees as follows:

Employees who entered the service of the company after November 30, 1937, and prior to June 1, 1938, will receive 15 per cent of their monthly basic salary. Employees who entered the service of the company after November 30, 1936, and prior to December 1, 1937, will receive 21 per cent of their monthly basic salary. Employees who entered the service of the company prior to December 1936, will receive 30 per cent of their monthly basic salary.

This dividend does not apply to executives, junior executives, managers and assistant managers, who participate in the company's bonus plan which is paid at the end of each year. Payment of dividends will be made on December 24, 1938.

Still Time Left To Give Toys For CIO-CUO Workshop

You can be sure—very sure—that children's smiles—as well as toys—are in the making at the busy CIO-CUO Santa workshop in the basement of the J. H. Griddle home out in Union Township.

Business, those who are running the works will tell you, has been "very good." But they'll tell you, too, the two labor groups can do a better job of making smiles if they get more toys to work on.

"We need all the discarded toys we can get," one of the Santa helpers said. "Just let us know of donations, and we'll get them." Donors should call Bell 1856 or 1823.

The plan of the CIO and the CUO—the Committee of Unemployed—is to distribute the newly repaired toys to worthy youngsters at a Christmas celebration soon. The date and place will be decided shortly.

Already it is said, the shop has turned out something like 300 repaired toys. And that's an excellent record for production!

EDENBURG

BROTHERHOOD DINNER

The Brotherhood dinner in the Community Hall Thursday evening was a success in every way. A nice sum of money was received to repair the inside of the church in the spring. Rev. Bartlett gave a very interesting address to the men, and several musical selections by the quartet were enjoyed.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

The Sunday school of the Methodist church, will present a Christmas program in the church, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. A. A. Swanson is chairlady of the committee in charge. The Christmas treat will be given Sunday morning.

EDENBURG NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ward, of Youngstown, O., spent a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bonnett, of Crawford avenue.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Many diseases of man are caused by the foot he eats.

Contaminated or infected meats carry germs to the human body.

Botulism comes from vegetables insufficiently cooked for eating.

Undulant fever may be transmitted from animals to man in food.

Trichinosis comes from eating insufficiently cooked contaminated pork.

Man shares many types of tapeworms with the lower animals.

The beef tapeworm is the one most commonly found in man.

Tularemia is transmitted to man from wild rabbits and squirrels.

Federal meat inspection has been going on since 1890.

More than 10 million food animals are inspected annually.

This is about two-thirds of the country's meat supply.

Doctors favor more and better meat inspection laws.

Medieval English shows often sold pocket-picking privileges to the gang submitting the highest bid.
